

"Mom, I want a job PROGRAMMING VIDEO GAMES"

Your child is a 9 to 17 year old "gamer" who is good at math without trying. Some day, s/he may even want a job programming video games. We can teach your child game programming using real programming languages such as Visual Basic, Java and C++.

Experience matters. Summer 2006 will be our 4th season in Markham.

Young kids can use Visual Basic to create Pacman, Frogger, King Kong, Worms or Donkey Kong games. Teens can start in more advanced projects such as building a Mario game or creating their own 3D worlds in Direct X. The really advanced can use C++ to program RPG games, Half-Life Mods, Game Engines or Online RPGs!

The maximum class size is only 4 students per instructor.

Help police identify stolen property

York Regional Police is asking for help identifying some stolen property.

Two people were arrested in connection with a break-in at Vaughan home Thursday.

Following their arrest, search warrants were obtained and executed and a large quantity of jewelry, electronics, personal items and various currencies were recovered.

The investigation has linked these men to several other residential break and enters in the south end of York, Durham Region and other parts of the GTA, including North York.

But investigators need help identifying the property owners.

This property will be available for public viewing tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday from 12 p.m. and 10 p.m. in the community room at Markham district headquarters, 8700 McCowan Rd.

Anyone who is looking for property that was stolen should bring photo identification and the police incident number they received when they reported the theft.
