

Future accountants rewarded

Students from Aurora, Markham and Richmond Hill received awards from the York District Chartered Accountants Thursday.

The $500 YCA awards, launched last year, are given to high school students considering a career as a chartered accountant.

The winners are Robert Tutins of Aurora High School, David Wu of Unionville High School and Muhammad Abbas Amarshi of Richmond Hill High School.

Students submitted a 300-word essay on why they might consider a career as a chartered accountant.

The awards were presented at a luncheon at the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario in Toronto.

"This contest gives York Region's graduating high school students a chance to think about a career as a chartered accountant, while collecting some money," said Arun K. Mathur, chairperson of the York accountants awards committee.

"This year we were impressed with the creativity students demonstrated in their submissions."
