

New info in triple shooting

Police have released new information about the vehicle involved in a triple shooting outside a Vaughan social club June 8 in the hopes it will compel more witnesses to come forward.

Three men were sitting outside a social club at 253 Jevlan Dr. around 6 p.m. when another man drove up in a black SUV, got out and shot them.

He got back in the truck and drove off. The vehicle was a late-model, black Ford Excursion with a diesel engine. It had dark-tinted windows, shiny rims and chrome side step-rails.

The SUV was last seen leaving the scene and heading toward Weston and Carlauren roads.

The shooter is described as a white male, aged 25 to 28, average build, approximately five feet, eight inches tall and 170 pounds.

He had short, dark hair that was longer on top and was wearing a short-sleeved buttoned shirt and light-colored pants that were longer than shorts.

The victims, a 56-year-old Vaughan man, a 26-year-old Toronto man and a 55-year-old man from Bolton, are all reportedly relatives of slain mobster Enio Mora. All three men have since been released from hospital.

THE CONSERVATION ZONE EVERY KILOWATT COUNTS - EVEN AT THE COTTAGE!

Peter Love
 Chief Energy Conservation Officer of Ontario

My role as Chief Energy Conservation Officer is to ensure that conservation and energy efficiency play a vital role in Ontario's ongoing energy strategy.

"The Conservation Zone" is designed to help you find ways to use energy more wisely, and become part of Ontario's growing conservation culture. We can no longer take electricity for granted. And with hot summer days already here, every saved kilowatt counts as our power generators produce the extra electricity we need to keep Ontario cool.

When you take off for cottage country this summer, don't leave energy conservation behind! Many of the energy-saving ideas that have worked around your home will work just as well at the cottage.

Cottage Tips for Using Energy Wisely

- Keeping screens clean and in good repair will allow you to open windows wide to catch those cooling cross-breezes.
- Ceiling fans are also an energy-efficient way to be comfortable on hot days.
- If your cottage has a clothes dryer, save it for colder days and use an outdoor line to get that "fresh air" feel in your clothing.
- Use compact fluorescent lighting (CFL) instead of incandescent lights.
- Purchase "ENERGY STAR" rated equipment and appliances.
- Use solar panels for hot water or electricity, if possible.
- While barbecuing is generally the cooking method of choice at the cottage, the less you use your oven, the more energy you'll save. Use a microwave oven whenever possible.
- Older fridge models can be real kilowatt guzzlers. A new fridge can run on as little as half the electricity of a ten year old unit. But new or old, when it's not in use, unplug it!
- On a rainy day, spend some time caulking and weather-stripping your cottage. It will help to keep cool air in...and insects out.

You can start saving energy at home while you are away with a programmable thermostat that sets back your air conditioning when you leave for the cottage and bumps it back up when you're on the way home. Take advantage of the Conservation Bureau's Cool Savings Rebate program that offers up to a $75 rebate on a contractor-installed programmable thermostat. For more information on this and other rebate programs, call 1-866-670-COOL (2665), or visit www.conservationbureau.on.ca
