The popular HGTV show "designer guys" is taping their 5th season. Designers Allen, Matt and Anwar are back bringing their unique solutions to homeowner's design challenges.

The upcoming tv season promises more extensive renovations, bigger projects, and more structural alterations.

The designer guys have chosen Fieldstone Windows Ltd. to provide custom windows and doors for several of their projects. Fieldstone windows has a wide variety of custom wood, vinyl, and aluminum clad windows, and specializes in the design and installation process.

Fieldstone's owner Ken Simpson credits their excellent trim carpentry and attention to detail as factors in the decision.

"Many people spend time researching window or door products without giving any thought as to how they will be installed and finished" says Ken. "We take pride in our design, installation and customer service, so that your windows will look great and work great for years to come"

The 5th season will premier in October.

Fieldstone Windows is scheduled for 3 of the 26 episodes.

Autumn Gardening Plan your perennial power now

PERENNIAL POWER AND POTS FOR FALL

Fall is an excellent time to plant perennials as you will give them a full season of growth and a healthy start to spring enjoyment. The warm soil encourages root growth, there is often good rainfall, and there are fewer instances of disease or pests. Garden centers usually offer a wide variety of perennials for sale at this time of year, so it's an inexpensive way to experiment with a variety of plants you might not have tried previously in your garden.

POTS TOO

If you're living in smaller quarters and garden with containers or just want some pots for accent on your patio, this too is an excellent time to create perennial pots to enjoy throughout the year. The key is to plant several 'backdrops' such as cedars, heathers, conifers or ivy. Then, leave space to plant some colorful annuals or bulbs as the seasons change to provide you with that accent of color. Inside your home, the containers give annuals a chance to take root in the soil yet not be exposed to too much moisture. For great tips on perennial care or sample gardens and containers, visit the flower experts at www.fernlea.com. There are great recipes too for planting containers that give you a variety of plants and colors to expand your creativity.
