E-COMMERCE MARKETING GURU REQUIRED

Rugman, the world's leading Internet based reseller of Persian rugs is growing and now needs a courageous, Internet savvy, marketing guru to help lead the charge.

With leading edge technology tools at your fingertips, you are eager to take on the development, management and execution of our sales and marketing strategy.

If you have enjoyed previous involvement with all elements of managing an online marketing mix, and have personally and successfully developed an online property, defining parameters, briefing third parties on your objectives and overseeing the design/build process through to delivery, read on. We'd be delighted to have you champion our global efforts with future product definition, contextual advertising, new business development, web management, distribution channel development, and partner relations & communications. Of course, traffic, customer satisfaction and conversion rates are ultimately what it is all about!

Tell us about how you have excelled in the e-commerce/online marketing arena and have mastered the customer acquisition and retention game. Your experience with web analytics packages, making recommendations and implementing change based on analysis, testing, SEM, and affiliate marketing is critical. Our world is complex, so we will be challenging your project management, delivery, and implementation skills.

Our plan is to make you accountable for bringing in the bucks, every day.

You should know something about us before you decide if you are interested. We are a seven year old company with passion for what we do. We believe in creating family memories with heirloom quality products. Most of what we sell is made in third world countries, which supports our mission to provide opportunities and employment to people who might be less fortunate.

If you are who we are looking for, the Vice President is waiting to hear from you.

Please email your story to: slaridam@rugman.com
