

Elementary school artists taking over gallery

The joyful colours and designs of the town's youngest artists are on display at the Latcham Gallery until May 23.

Celebrations 2007 presents the artworks of kindergarten to Grade 8 students from Ballantrae Public School, Glad Park Public School, MindTech Montessori School, Orchard Park Public School, St. Brigid Catholic School, Stouffville Christian School, Summitview Public School, Whitchurch Highlands Public School and Willow Grove Primary School. All the schools are in Whitchurch-Stouffville.

The youngsters have created drawings, sketches, paintings, collages and sculptures.

The exhibition is at the gallery at 6240 Main St. in Stouffville.

The gallery's monthly Free Family Day takes place May 19 during the show and families are invited to come to the gallery to create their own piece of art.

Call 905-640-8954 for more information.

Artist, 93, presents work to Silver Jubilee Club

Card players were the subject of the oil painting 93-year-old artist Art Vibert presented to the Silver Jubilee

Our Town

with Hannalore Volpe

Seniors Club Monday.

Card games were some of the activities he enjoyed when he was a member of the club during his six years in Stouffville.

"I had many good times here and that is why I thought of them when I painted it," Mr. Vibert said.

Mr. Vibert now lives in Port Perry. The self-taught artist has painted and drawn for most of his life.

The club is located at Main and Market streets in downtown Stouffville.

Authors at library tonight

Want to meet some local writers? Three authors are visiting the Whitchurch-Stouffville Public Library tonight from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Kim Howe, Michele Young and Sherry Loeffler will talk about their latest books and the writing process.

Admission is free. The library is at 30 Burkholder St. in Stouffville Memorial Park.
