

Unionville crash victim had bright future: sister

BY JOE FANTAUZZI
Staff Writer

The man killed in a car crash last week in Whitchurch-Stouffville was preparing to open a martial arts studio the day he died.

Michael Tawadros of Unionville was 28 when his Acura Integra collided head-on with a Honda Odyssey minivan on Stouffville Road, about 500 metres east of McCowan Road June 5, his sister, Melissa Szauter, told the Economist & Sun.

He was buried three days later, June 8, on what would have been his 29th birthday, she said.

"Initially it was a complete shock and we were horribly saddened by it but we believe he's in a better place," Ms Szauter said.

More than 600 family and friends attended the funeral for a man known for his love of hockey, travelling, sailing and film.

"He was willing to help out anyone," she said.

While Mr. Tawadros may be gone, his family plans to continue with the opening of the studio in his memory, under the banner of Scarborough-based United Martial Arts Canada.

The studio was originally scheduled for a July 1 opening in the Ninth Line and Main Street area of Stouffville, Ms Szauter said.
