Stouffville's citizen of year has touched many lives

said yesterday. "It's certainly an honour people felt that way.

Audrey and Ron Gibson moved from Scarborough to Stouffville in 1968, when Mr. Gibson was hired as the then Village of Stouffville's works superintendent.

Mrs. Gibson was on the committee that launched Meals on Wheels in Stouffville in 1973. She remains a captain with the weekly service, delivering meals to local seniors.

She is the secretary on the board of directors of the Silver Jubilee Club, where she has helped organize six trips for seniors this year.

Mrs. Gibson has already been honoured by the province for 30 years of volunteer work.

"Audrey has been a positive community ambassador for the needs of seniors in Whitchurch-Stouffville," Glenys MacKay, outreach co-ordinator with Community Home Assistance to Seniors in York Region, said. "She is an outstanding resident that gives of her time to make Whitchurch-Stouffville a better place."

Mrs. Gibson has also volunteered with the Canadian Cancer Society, the Heart and Stroke Foundation, Markham Fair, Stouffville Lawn Bowling Club, Music Mania and St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church, where she has been a member of the Catholic Women's League for 38 years.

"Because I was a stay-at-home mother, volunteering was my way of giving back to the community," she said. "I had the time and I enjoyed, and I still do. I've met so many wonderful people volunteering."

The Gibsons have three sons and five grandchildren.

'Audrey is best known for her contagious ever-present smile and her sparkling personality.'

"Audrey is best known for her contagious ever-present smile and her sparkling personality," former citizen of the year Sandy Schell Kennedy said in her nomination. "She always makes you feel she's glad to see you and has contributed to the life of our community in a very positive way."
