

Stouffville Says

By Hannelore Volpe

How are you doing with the new Green Bin program?

— Asked at the Nofills plaza

Christine ZIEGLER

I have a composter anyways. Now I don't have to walk to the end of my back yard (to use it). The new program is fairly easy and straightforward. However, it is a challenge getting the kids to know what goes where.

Christine GUNN

It is very confusing — there are too many things that go into the Green Bin. However, the fridge magnet listing what goes into the Green Bin is a big help.

Stephen BRIGNALL

This program is more proactive. You don't have to do your own composting. There is not a lot of hassle to it. You just have to do a little more sorting.

Kim GATTEN

For me, it is getting used to another process. You have to review what you are doing and have to train everyone, including the children, what to do.
