Stouffville Garage Doors

Stouffville Garage Doors is among a select group of dealers chosen to introduce the Richards-Wilcox Family Safe line of door systems to Canada. The standard of safety in Europe for many years now, the Richards-Wilcox patented finger-protection design drastically reduces the chances of pinching a child's fingers between door sections.

In addition to the safety features, the energy-efficient, steel-insulated products feature many new styles, including the fashionable new 'wood look', and all are backed by the Lifetimer warranty.

A properly installed insulated garage door significantly improves heat retention and with R values as high as 16, you can be sure the garage door will be one of the best-insulated features in your home. As an added bonus, the foam-injection process in an insulated door adds massive amounts of strength to the door while ensuring smooth, quiet operation.

There has never been a better time to invest in a beautiful, maintenance-free garage door with a finish that lasts a lifetime and a state-of-the-art insulation process that is unsurpassed in the industry.

Serving York Region for more than 20 years, Stouffville Garage Doors has built a reputation for quality products, excellent service and a well-trained and dedicated staff. They believe a quality product is only as good as the technician who installs it.

Stouffville Garage Doors offers a complete service, carrying custom Carriage House doors, steel-insulated and non-insulated product, commercial overhead doors, electric openers and aluminum capping. They also service existing garage doors and carry a full line of parts for any and all commercial and residential doors.

The service team is fast, efficient and knowledgeable and the rates are the most reasonable in York Region.
