Dear Justin...
Six years ago on the 25th of October, life was so kind. Our family was happy, hopeful and intact. The next day, life was so unspeakably cruel. Without warning you were ripped away from us and our "small but tight" family ended.

Our safe, normal life was replaced by tragedy and despair. We still ache to see your handsome face. We just want to be able to touch and talk to you again. We're growing older & we want you to be growing older too. You are locked into a time capsule that we can't open.

We still look for you, in every crowd we are in... hoping against all hope, to suddenly find you. Only then, can this terrible nightmare end. We want you back... if only you could come back. Life seems so empty without you here. We try to fill it up, but we are cracked cups full of holes. Forever empty until we are together again.

Through these long years without you, the pain and loneliness remains the same. Time changes nothing; we just try to cope a bit better. Only in private times, can that brutal grief come out.

Each new day we are closer to being reunited. Yet each new day, further from the life we had. Justin, you will always be the center of our lives. You'll be safe forever inside our hearts... We love you, our Angel Justin.

Loving and missing you so very much...
Mum, Dad, your family and your friends.
