2 extra squirts
per teat per milking—
that's all it takes!

Ever figure how little extra milk Purina Cow Chow has to make for you to pay its way? Two extra squirts per teat per milking amounts to about 1 pint per day. . . . 1 1/4 lbs., worth from 3 to 5 1/2 cents, depending on your test and your market. At any ordinary rate of feeding, that's more than enough to cover any ordinary difference in feed cost!

See us about a supply of Purina Cow Chow to mix with your chop or rolled grain. It'll make you a lot more than "2 extra squirts" . . . ask anyone who feeds it about that!
