CEDAR GROVE

Cedar Grove news this week, unfortunately, is not all good news. The Community Club has taken the trouble to post signs on the property at the corner of the townline and the tenth asking picnickers to refrain from parking in that area. Last week trees were cleared skirting the field so they would be completely visible to would-be parkers. Over the weekend, however, several cars were parked within inches of the trees and some had run right over them. It is hard to understand what possesses visitors, who drive 25 or 30 miles to enjoy our countryside, to knowingly ignore our signs and destroy the community property. The signs are our only authority—the rest is up to us. It is our property and our project. It would be a good idea to make it our business, if we happen to see cars destroying the trees, to ask these people to park elsewhere. The offenders are not park visitors but picnickers who swim below the bridge and camp outside the park.

The 30-mile limit signs have also been posted in the village but these, too, seem to hold little authority. Most travellers who slow down passing the store area do not seem to realize that the people of Cedar Grove live in the surrounding countryside as well. Last Sunday there was an accident not far from the park on the town line. No-one but the drivers themselves know why it happened or who was to blame but we cannot help wondering if there would have been an accident had a little less speed and a little more caution been taken. It is a common occurrence these days to see far too many rabbits, cats, squirrels and other small animals lying on the road — killed by some motorist who could not or did not stop to give them time to cross the road. Dogs and children are just as unpredictable and just as blinded by bright headlights. Country roads are not highways, nor are they intended for speed records. The signs have caused some improvement but local cars and delivery trucks, whose drivers know the roads, are still not slowing down enough to have their vehicles under control in case of a sudden stop. What can we do about it? We have not the equipment to tell how fast car is going nor the authority to fine a speeding driver but we know how fast is "too fast" and we have the authority to report such a driver. When a car is reported by us, more than once to the Markham Township Police they will deal with the owners. If, by reporting, our point is brought to the attention of the authorities they may realize how serious we are about avoiding accidents and the heart-breaking loss of children and animals in our community. This, too, is up to us. Start now before the accident happens that involves you, your child or your pet. The Markham Township police have promised to patrol this area over the weekend when the traffic to and from the park is heaviest.

The Clendennans and Mr. Arthur Reesor were at Hawk Lake over the weekend and Olive Reesor and family have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McIntosh, Eden Mills.

Dates to Remember—July 20th. Woodland Park club house. Cedar Grove Euchre and Strawberry Festival. Fun, strawberries and prizes. Come one, come all.
