The idea has been passed around that all the cottagers around the Lake should band together to have a Clean Up Day in which improvements to their homes and frontage should be made. Sounds like a good idea.

Mr. H. A. Bevins who resides at Rest Nook Beach has one of the most original and beautiful terraced flower gardens in the Lake district. Mr. Bevins has spent much time with his prize possession and the result is certainly a work of art. The garden is built up on a hill behind his house and during this time of year is a mass of flowering beauty.

Don't forget to support the bingos held in Davies Pavilion at Cedar Beach every Thursday at 2.30 p.m. Every Saturday at 8.30 p.m. bingos are staged in the Community Hall below Cedar Vale Ave. The prizes are good and the proceeds all go to further development of the Community Association.

The contract has been let for the choosing of tenders for the resurfacing of the road that winds around from the north side of the lake to the south side proceeding over to the eighth concession. This news will no doubt be received with welcome by the many summer residents of the Lake area as well as the hundreds of weekend callers that jam this roadway over the holidays. The tenders will be opened at the regular meeting of council on Thursday night of this week.

Those of you who have noticed a 1924 Ford around the Lake recently might like to know that the smooth running relic belongs to Hugh Allen of Toronto. He along with four other boys are sharing a cottage and the car at the Lake on weekends. The other fellows are Mr. Bob Carter, Mr. Joe Smith, Mr. Jim Crofts and Mr. Bob Brown. Another automobile that you might by chance run into is a 1925 Maxwell owned by Mr. Art Scullion. The Ford may be seen parked on Windsor Drive where the boys reside on the holiday weekend.

At the home on Monday evening the Wideman families honoured their brother with a birthday celebration. They will be renewing acquaintances for a short time and will then wing their flight home.

CEDAR GROVE

Did you notice a thin trickle of smoke curling out of the valley last weekend? Or did you hear the soft strains of campfire songs? Nine girls of the first Scarborough Girl Guide Company pitched tent and set up housekeeping for the weekend down by the river. Their leader was Mrs. Edna Knight and the girls included Joyce and Nancy Duncan, Mary Campbell, Marlene Hodgins, Mary Ann McPherson, Karen Taylor, Pat Kernaghan, Liz McMurray and Emmy Breithaupt. Saturday night, if you remember, it rained often and thoroughly. But these girls, aged 11 to 14, intended to sleep out of doors and they did just that. Next day the report was a gay, "oh, our faces got a little wet." Apart from one accident when Emmy Breithaupt fell from her bike, the weekend was a great success and Monday morning eleven mosquito bitten sun-burned but happy guides set off to bicycle 15 miles home. As did the Boy Scouts of a few years ago, the Scarborough Girl Guide group displayed excellent camping sense during their week-end by the river. They were very grateful to Ella Coakwell for her arrangements and Charlie Croucher for his camping site.

The strawberry social and euchre held last week at Woodland Park club house was a very successful event with about nineteen tables. The winners were Mrs. Jewett, Milliken; Mrs. Newton Robinson, Whitevale, and Mr. Carr from the Park. The Woodland Park Campers Association have extended the cordial invitation to Cedar Grove to attend their euchre this Saturday evening. This will be a big euchre with lots of lovely prizes.

Harold Lapp and his pig had a busy day last Sunday. The pig had twenty-five piglets and Harold had to help out with the feeding schedule. This accounts for Harold's absence from church and may affect the price of pork this winter.
