Turk Broda and his All Stars are scheduled for a game at Markham on Wednesday night of this week.

The Lions Club in town purchased three new gloves for the local girls which will no doubt aid them in their quest for the championship.

Buttontville and Thornhill have entered their teams in the O.A.S.A. and will no doubt be scanning some of the other clubs for reinforcements during the next few weeks.

Peaches girls' team has now acquired new sweaters for the coming playoffs. From now on they will be known as the "Peachettes."

John Lawrenson did the hurling for Markham on Tuesday night of last week in their game against Peaches. It was the first attempt for John on the mound and up until the final innings he was holding the upper hand. Peaches rallied to take the contest 14-13.

Stan Miller hammered a home run on Sunday afternoon as Oshawa Merchants handed Toronto Staffords a 20-5 defeat. Miller also came through on the mound in fine style and was never in trouble in the one sided win.

Aurora girls have been given a week to get their team back together again. It is expected that they will resume regular play very soon.

"Joint" McComb is currently leading Newmarket. Town League batting race with a neat average of 630. McComb will be remembered around this district as the flashy forward that performed with Aurora in their exhibition game with the Clippers at the end of the season.

The local girls journeyed to Agincourt last week for a game under the floodlights and emerged the victors by a 19-18 count. Helen Goudie came up with one of the best hits ever placed in that park with a four bagger with the bases loaded. It was the first time for many of the girls to play a game under the lights.

The Red Sox are filling in any lack of league games with numerous exhibition contests. On Monday, August 6, they journey to Port Perry to take part in the tournament there. Next week they go to Fenelon Falls for a game with that club.

Cedar Grove girls under the hurling skill of Lois Carr and Audrey Murrison are away out in front in their respective girls' league. So far this season they have lost but one game, winning three scheduled contests besides three exhibition games.

Peaches and Victoria Square battled to a 9-9 draw on Monday night at Unionville. After the final innings had been completed the score books were compared and Peaches had one more run to their credit. The Square claimed, however, according to their book that four instead of the usual three players had been put out. When no agreement could be reached Coach Lloyd Grove of Peaches said his team would settle for a split in the points.

On Friday night Aurora is the visiting club to the park in the Ladies' Softball League and the following week on Wednesday, Aug. 8, the powerful Elgin Mills crew pay a visit to Stouffville for the second game with the homesters. The final game of the schedule sees Stouffville going to Aurora on August 9.

Stouffville girls handed Brougham an 11-6 defeat at Greenwood Park on Monday night. The locals found it hard to hit the speedy Brougham hurler until the latter part of the contest. Myrtle Staley was on the mound for the homesters being replaced by Joan Haynes for the final innings. Brougham will be the visitors at Memorial Park on Wednesday night, Aug. 1st, for a return game.

Toronto Staffords will be the visiting team to the park on Wednesday night and from all reports it should be a real contest. The locals were to have a game with this same Viaduct League squad some time ago but they were rained out. Among the players in the lineup will be the star forward with the Clippers during the hockey season Don Couch. Don't forget the date this Wednesday night, August 1, at the local park.

An umpire's life is never an easy one as Leo Lenahan found out as he was calling the balls and strikes during a game in the Owen Sound Softball League. Gord Henry who guarded the nets for Boston in the semi-final round of the playoffs objected to a ruling of the umpire and had to be held back by another goalie Harry Lumley. However, Henry broke away and hit Umpire Lenahan. The ball and hockey star has been suspended indefinitely.

Peaches girls made the forty mile trip to Sunderland on Saturday night to take on the top girls team in that district. Both teams battled on fairly even terms until a couple of wild throws gave Sunderland the lead. They went on to win by a 7-2 score. Flo Anderson started on the mound for Peaches but was replaced in the sixth by Carly Grove. Hundreds of spectators cheered on their favorites and gave the girls a total of $25.00 collection which is very encouraging. After the game the Peaches squad was invited to the home of Mr. Norman Lotton where they were served sandwiches, tarts and cookies. A return game will be played in the near future.

Bob Hassard, Earl Cook and Ted Cadieux may take a bow after their showing on Thursday night in defeating Sunderland in the final scheduled game. Hassard lifted a four bagger into the shrubbery outside the park to give his team the lead. Cook besides hurling a good game on the mound came up with a long triple. Cadieux pulled off one of the best catches in the outfield that we have seen this season as he snagged the ball only inches from the ground.

Peaches-Thornhill Protest Held Over

The protest issued by the Peaches Ball Club against a game played in Thornhill in which the manager Jack Warriner and outfielder Neil Brown were ejected from the game has been held over for a time. The Thornhill umpire failed to put in an appearance and until a personal statement can be given by him the league heads must hold their decision. All teams with the exception of Claremont were present at the meeting. Gord Coverley of Markham, Bill Hood of Buttontville and Ernie LeMasurier of Unionville besides President Bob Rae and Secretary Ernie Appleton heard both sides of the story from Peaches and Thornhill. At present Thornhill is leading Peaches by a half dozen points and if the protested game will make a difference whether Peaches make the playoffs or not no doubt the League will give it serious consideration.

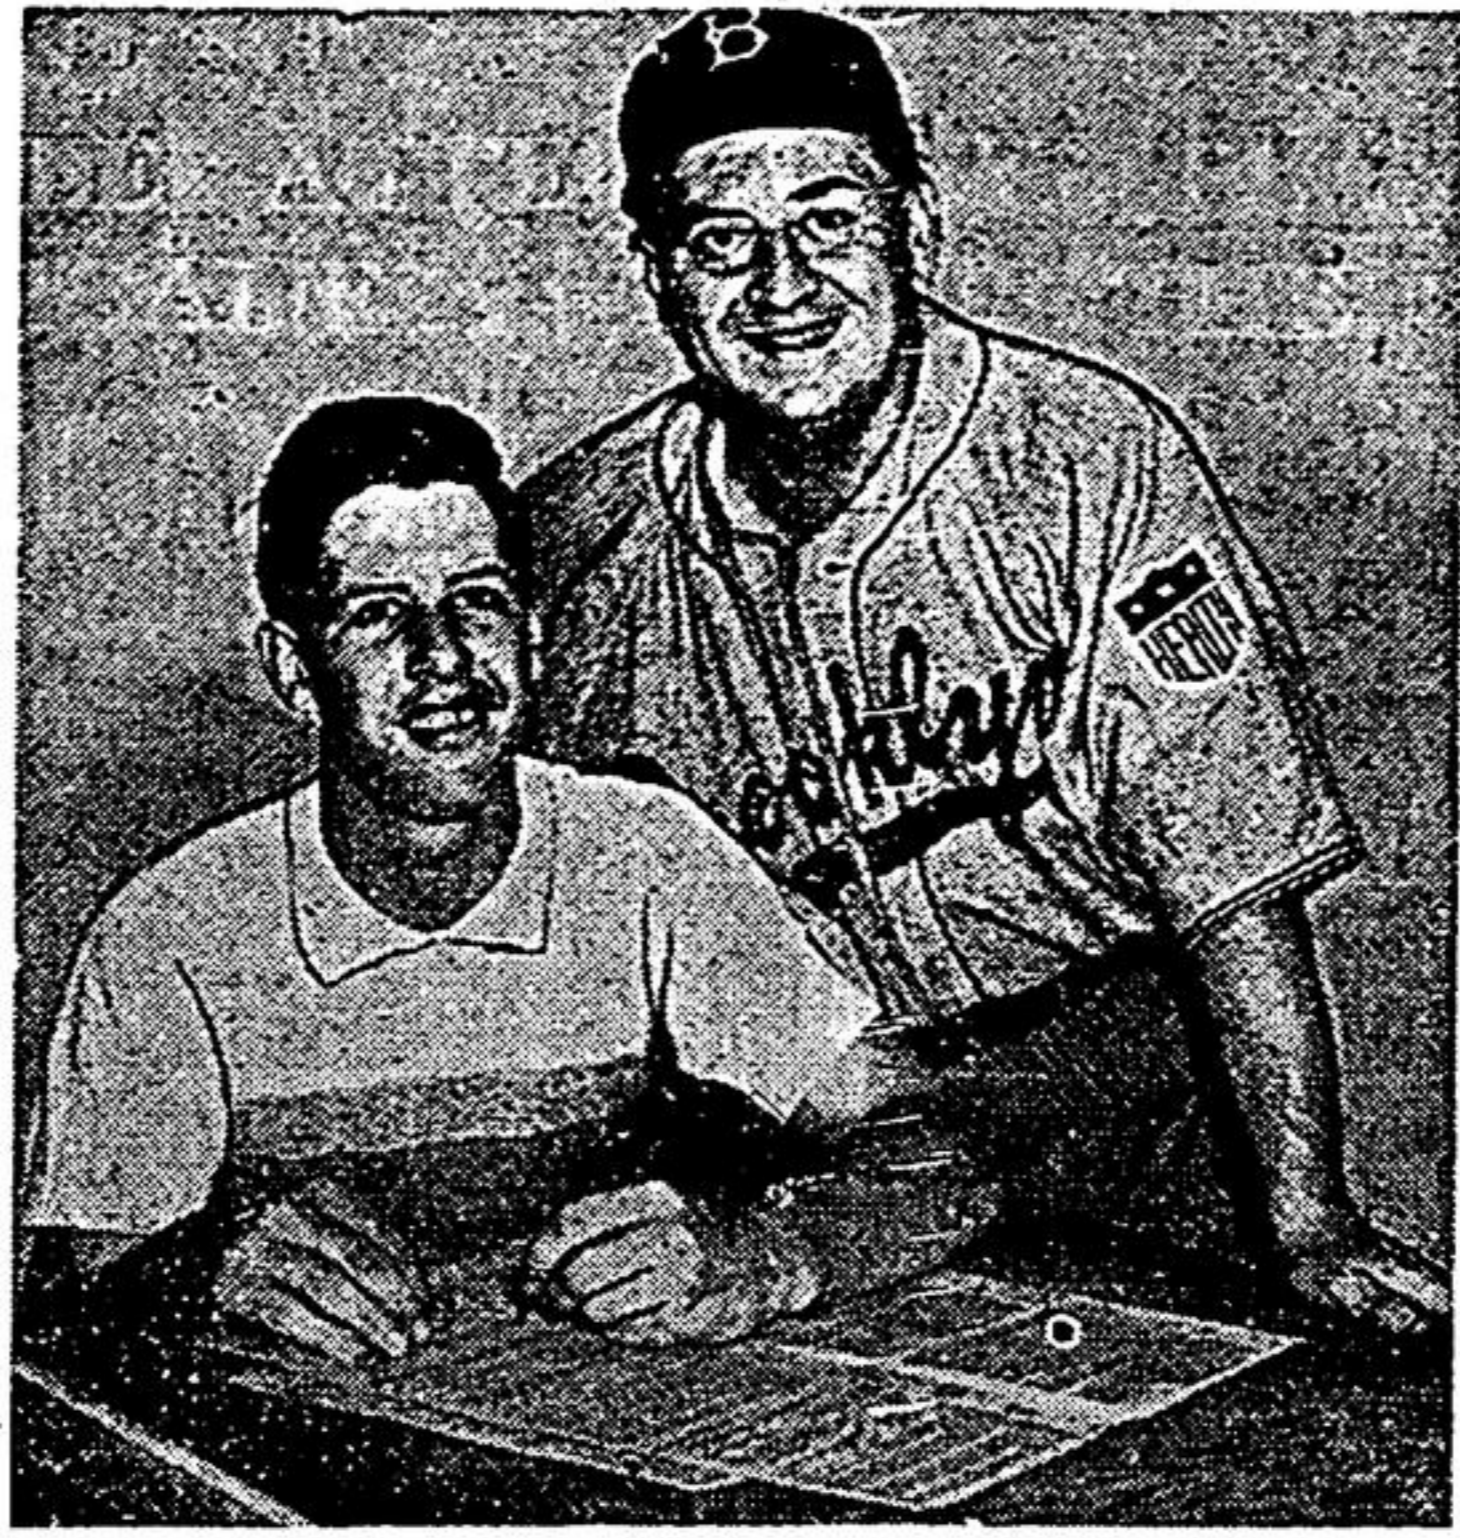

St. Louis Cardinals Hold Tryout Camp At Hamilton

The St. Louis Cardinals will provide for all ball players between the ages of 17 and 23 an opportunity to see whether they are qualified for a professional baseball career when they conduct their tryout camp at Civic Stadium in Hamilton on August 10 and 11.

The players trying out will be scouted for their ability at fielding, throwing, hitting and base-running. Those who are judged to be future big league talent will be signed to one of the 15 teams of the famous Cardinal farm systems. The tryouts will get under way each day at 11 a.m. Those who plan to attend are asked to bring their own shoes and gloves, and uniforms if possible as the Cardinals do not furnish this equipment. All expenses incident to attending the camp will be refunded to all players who are signed to contracts by the Cardinal Scouts.

Brooklin Signs Stafford's Star

One of Toronto's finest sandlot performers, 19-year-old Billy Weir, is seen here with Bill Harris, Dodgers' chief scout in Canada, after he had signed a contract with Brooklyn club following a three-day tryout at school held recently at Brantford, Ont. The 185-pound, 5 feet 11½-inch first sacker will be assigned next spring to play with Hornell Club of the Pony league, a Dodgers' farm team.

Hassard Slams 350 ft. Homer To Break Up Ball Game

Pittsburg may have its Ralph Kiner, Boston its Ted Williams and Cleveland its Luke Easter but when it comes to power hitting all eyes must turn to Stouffville's Big League Star, Bob Hassard.

On Thursday night in the final game of the regular schedule Sunderland was the visiting team to the local park and as the game was slowly drawing to a close the Red Sox were trailing by a 5-3 count. Lorne Schell stepped to bat and pounded out a long triple over the outfield fence and was followed by Chadwick with a single. With the tying runs on base Bob Hassard strolled to the batting circle with a determined look in his eye. As the pitcher faced the batter apparently unconcerned the big ex-pro star took up his regular batting stance waving the club high above his head like a piece of match wood. As the first pitch flashed across the plate Hassard wheeled the bat completely around throwing himself almost out of the box. Once more the pitcher wound up and once more the bat cut through the air as the umpire called out "strike two." At first it appeared that the story was to take the form of the "Mighty Casey" tale but little did the hurler know about the intentions of the batter as he wound up for the payoff pitch. As the third ball winged its way over the plate a resounding crack split the air as all eyes scanned the sky in search of the tiny ball. Up, up and still up it climbed as the fielders ran back in a vain attempt to catch the grand slammer. Over one fence, across the road and over another went the well tagged ball losing itself in the shrubbery far out of the park. Amid the cheers of the spectators and handshakes of his team mates Hassard waltzed home with what proved to be the game winning hit. The home run seemed to break the hearts of the visitors as the locals added four more to take the contest 10-5.

Both teams collected a run in the first innings but the visitors went two up in the second on three errors by the homesters. In the third innings Sunderland added another run and only for a spectacular shoe string catch by the right fielder Ted Cadieux kept the opposition from adding one more. Lorne and Ken Schell both came across in the bottom of the third with runs to make the score read 1-3. Sunderland counted run number five in the top of the fifth and held that edge until Hassard's game winning homer.

Earl Cook did the hurling for the Red Sox and aided his team in their seventh inning rally by slamming a long triple out of the park. Lorne Schell came through with his second hit of the innings with a double driving in Laushway, and Smith.

Although the home run by Hassard was the highlight of the game the entire team after a few bad innings in the early stages of the contest looked good and ended the regular schedule on the right foot. The locals suffered only two losses during the regular league games, one being to Sutton and the other to Port Perry. The homesters have come out on top in all their home games. The locals now stand by awaiting their grouping in the playoffs which should be coming up without too much delay.

of his favorite player over the radio and had seen his picture in the paper was never fortunate enough to come face to face with his hockey idol until last week. The thrill of seeing and talking with a big name in sport is one that Freddy will remember as long as he lives.

Tri-County League Playoffs Settled

Plans are all settled for the coming Tri-County League playoffs which begin this week. The first and fourth teams play off while the second and third battle it out. There will be two winners from each group making a total of six winners from the three competing groups. The six remaining teams will then commence a round robin series with the two teams gaining the most points competing for the Tri-County League Championship. Stouffville will take on Sunderland while Sutton and Port Perry fight it out. The first contest for the locals will be in Sunderland on Friday night but the date of the return game is not known as yet.

Race For First Place Tightens in Township Softball League

At the present time only five points separates the third place team from the first place squad in the Markham Township Softball League. Buttontville are still leading with 28 points made up of 13 wins, 2 losses and 2 ties. Markham is close on their trail three points back with 12 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie. Two points back of Markham comes Unionville with 11 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie. Thornhill is on the fourth and last playoff rung with Peaches and Claremont remaining in that order. Last week saw some real hitting power as Unionville blasted Claremont 22-1 and Peaches edged Markham 13-12. Buttontville and Thornhill split their points in a 5-5 draw. On Thursday night Claremont blanked Peaches 2-0. Markham edged Thornhill 4-3 and Unionville pulled an upset over Buttontville winning 5-2. There is only a matter of two or three games to go in the regular schedule before the teams hit the playoffs.

"Thrill of My Life" Says Local Boy After Visit from Syl Apps

"It was the thrill of my life," exclaimed 21-year-old Freddy Hosking, son of Mr. T. J. Hosking who farms on the seventh concession of Markham after he had been paid a visit by one of the greatest athletes of all time, Syl Apps. Freddy, who was crippled by infantile paralysis at an early age has always been an enthusiastic hockey fan and can be found close to the radio every Saturday night when the games are in progress. For one whole hour the ex-Toronto Maple Leaf captain talked with his sports minded fan as they discussed many things together. Everything from hockey to farming was commented on by both parties and Mr. Apps who owns a house and piece of land in Agincourt is now the proud owner of a garden where he cultivates many vegetables.
