How Much Should You Trust Your. Realtor?

If you feel that you can't trust him completely both as to honesty and judgment, then you should look for one you can. There is a second truism to bear in mind: Once you have found such a Realtor, give him YOUR honesty and loyalty and you will assure yourself of receiving his best efforts on your behalf.

A harmonious and sympathetic relationship between a buyer or seller and his Realtor is the most valuable influence a buyer or seller can have going for them.

A Realtor, like most humans, reacts to confidence by striving to keep it. The welfare of his clients comes first above all else in his business dealings and his clients are protected and benefitted accordingly.

If you can establish this "rapport" with a Realtor, then protect it with loyalty to that Realtor. Knowing that you are relying on him to find the right property or buyer for your needs, he will work diligently until

Many businessmen who have become wealthy through their real estate investments, regard their Realtor as a vital "partner" in their financial affairs bringing judge ment and experience to guide them. A "home investor" should do no less.
