Carol Tipson, Stouffville, R.R. 4, scored a 2nd in girls solo, 10 years and under.

Bride and groom sleep on floor

By Lillian Jamieson
BALSAM-MT. ZION There are hundreds of human interest stories to be told in connection with last weekend's storm. One of these comes out of the community of Ashburn were 100 wedding guests were stranded Saturday. Even the bride and groom were forced to sleep on someone's living room floor. A fine way to start a honeymoon. Mrs. Judith Symons of Chalk Lake had the answer to mid-winter transportation problems. She travelled to Balsam, Sunday, by dog sled. Debbie Graham, Ruth Hoskins and Faye McAvoy attended the Winter Carnival last week in Quebec. Mrs. Winnie

'Sandy' is home - safe and sound

'Sandy', a part-Persian cat is a household pet in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Forfar, Stouffville, R.R.3. But his nine lives were nearly ended when he embarked on a one-way trip up a nearby hydro pole. He spent two days and a night on his precarious perch until linemen cut the power and brought him safely down. Sandy's enjoying all the comforts of home again and members of the Forfar family circle are happy, including 7 year old Pat, shown here with his furry friend. —Jas. Thomas.
