

Don Deacon complaint

Commuters stand in aisle

MARKHAM - By reducing the Stouffville-Toronto dayliner service to single car, commuters are forced to stand in the aisle, complains Donald Deacon, M.P.P., York Centre.

Mr. Deacon also points out that passenger movement is impeded through the use of a single exit.

In a letter to Mr. W.D. Piggott, Asst. Vice-President, Great Lakes Region, Canadian National Railways, Mr. Deacon states as follows:

I am concerned by the increasing number of standees on the 'Stouffville Streak' as a result of the reduction of the operation to single car unit. I am also disappointed that the passengers are forced to unload through only one exit and this delays their movement unnecessarily. Could not arrangements be made for two exits to be used, particularly at the Union Station on the morning run?

Charge some farmers excluded from tax rebate

YORK REGION - Some farmers have not yet received their property tax rebates for 1970. The problem, according to Department of Municipal Affairs officials, is that some properties are incorrectly coded on local assessment roles.

This is an extremely unfortunate situation, Ontario Federation of Agriculture president Gordon Hill commented on hearing the report. "This rebate was awarded to all farmers, and all farmers should receive it."

The property tax rebate was announced in October 1970 by then Prime Minister John Roberts. It amounts to 25 per cent of net farm property taxes.

"If any farmer hasn't received his rebate, here's what I suggest he do. First he should contact his local assessment office to check the coding on his property. If it's coded residential or commercial, or something other than farm, he should ask the assessment office to correct it, and pass the information on to the Department of Municipal Affairs in Toronto."

Hill said that if the property owner doesn't insist on correction no-one will.

"After you have spoken to your assessment office," Hill continued, "write to me at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, 387 Bloor St. E., Toronto 285, giving me details of your assessment and property. We have found that some assessment offices are reluctant to make coding corrections. But if we have the necessary information we can exert pressure from this end too."

"I invite any farmer who hasn't received his rebate - whether he's a member of the federation or not - to write to me about his rebate problem."

New tractor models

STOUFFVILLE - Don Richards and Ray Ward, of Chas. Richards & Sons Ltd., have recently returned from Rock Island, Ill. They attended a two-day showing of International Harvester Company's new 66 series tractor line, as well as two new low-profile utility tractors.

The first day was devoted to the introduction of six new farm tractors in the 79 to 133 horsepower range, and the new utility tractors of 40 and 52 horsepower.

The second day was reserved for a tour of the company's works, where the tractors are being manufactured. The new models were shown in an arena. Dealers from across Canada and the United States attended.

Jim Richards stated that information on these models is now available at the company's showroom, Main Street West.
