Lone girl 'survives' all-male course

STOUFFVILLE — One girl and 67 young men. Sounds like a stowaway aboard H.M.S. York. But no, that was the number of students enrolled in the second year Mechanical Engineering course at Queen's University, Kingston.
 Who was the lucky girl?
 She was 19 year old Carolyn Small, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Small, 549 Elm Road, Stouffville. Carolyn spent the holiday weekend at her parent's home.
 How did it feel — one pretty girl among so many handsome college boys?
 "It was pretty hectic for the first couple of months," said Carolyn. She noted however, that the 'break' in the male-dominated course was more of a blow to the men's ego than a problem for her. In all engineering classes combined, girls represent only 1.2 percent of the total, she said.
 Did the guys stand in line, hoping for a Friday night date?
 Not really, said Carolyn. In fact, during the entire University year, she only dated one of her classmates.
 "It just didn't work out", she said, "first thing you know, the conversation would turn to school and then comparing marks — no, it just didn't work out".
 Carolyn admitted she was more interested in attaining a high academic standing than attending the regular run of social functions. And she did, finishing fourth with a top mark of 96 percent in differential equations and an overall average of 84.1 percent. She also won the Ontario Association of Professional Engineers' Scholarship.
 A graduate from the High School of Montreal, Carolyn began her first university year in the Physics and Math course. Last September, she changed to Mechanical Engineering and now has her sights set on a B.Sc. Eng. degree.
 During the summer vacation period, she is employed with the National Research Council at Ottawa.
 Mr. Small, himself a mechanical engineer, is employed on the staff of Globelite Batteries, Scarborough.

Nineteen year old Carolyn Small was the lone girl in a second year class of 68 at Queen's University, Kingston. She is taking a course in Mechanical Engineering and finished fourth with an average mark of 84.1 percent. Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Small, 549 Elm Road, Stouffville. —Jas. Bloomington canoeist Circles Musselman's Lake

Bob Lewis of Bloomington is an avid canoeist. And while 'shooting the rapids' on some river in Northern Ontario might be more his line, he recently embarked on a voyage of a different kind — around Musselman's Lake. He describes his experience as follows: 6:30 p.m. — decided to go for ride in canoe, invited son to join me. 6:15 p.m. — launch canoe into Musselman's Lake. 7:30 p.m. — completed lieusure trip around circumference of lake — canoe is reloaded on to car for return journey home. 7:15 p.m. — canoe is unloaded. 7:16 p.m. — pen in hand to record observations of my first ride around Musselman's Lake in my new canoe.
 The canoe has to be the best way to observe a river or lake at close range. The sensation of riding waves kicked up by a high powered deep V motor boat on its eighth trip around the Lake reminds me of a roller coaster ride. The endless color variations in the water reminds me of the time I accidentally poured hot tea in a cup that had been used to wash some metal parts in gasoline. However, this spectrum of color didn't compare to the deep Algae green background provided by the waters of Musselman's to contrast the rainbow colors offered by spilled gas and oil. My conclusions are that if the lake is not now dead — it can anticipate a short life expectancy. Failing death of the lake by pollution, I imagine that one day a number of high powered motor boats will be going in the same direction around the lake causing such a whirlpool that instead of being spring fed, the flow will be reversed and disappear just like the water in a bath tub.
 Mrs. L.M. Stuart, a teacher on the staff of Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, has acquired the downstairs apartment at 40 Main Street East, Stouffville.

— There's many a slip —
STOUFFVILLE — It appears that Council members don't always read things before they sign them.
 At the meeting July 27, councillor Herb Simpson presented a written resolution to the effect that parking should be prohibited on certain Town roads. After a few minutes discussion, it was noticed that councillor Simpson was arguing against the measure.
 "Why are you opposing the resolution?" asked Mayor Ken Laushway, "you introduced it."
 Councillor Simpson protested that he didn't have to support it and asked if he wasn't entitled to introduce a measure merely to create discussion. He was assured that this was quite correct.
 "Besides," Simpson added, "to tell the truth, I never read the thing before I signed it."
 In the vote that followed, all were opposed.

Getting a 3' high object into a 2' high trunk is a neat trick. If you can do it. But when a Volkswagen Squareback Sedan gets into the act, the problem disappears. How? Just open the Squareback's big back door and abracadabra, 42 cubic feet of thin air for the problem to disappear into. But here's the best trick of all: when you're through using it as a station wagon—Presto-Changeo! It turns into a family sedan. Ladies and gentlemen: the VW Squareback Sedan. Now... Do we have any volunteers from our audience?
