

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morgan

Honored by family on golden anniversary day

MARKHAM - It was August 6, 1921, that Victor Morgan and Emily Osburn were married at his parents' home on Symington Avenue, Toronto.

On August 6, 1971, Victor and Emily Morgan, now of Markham, celebrated another important occasion—their Golden Wedding Anniversary. They were honored dinner guests of their two daughters, Lillian (Mrs. John Borland), Toronto and Grace (Mrs. Lloyd Coxworth), Markham, R.R. 2.

The family gathering was held at Watts' Restaurant, Cedarbrae. Mrs. Morgan was lovely, her powder-blue dress accented by a yellow rose corsage. Mr. Morgan, his usual friendly self, enjoyed every minute of the outing. His mother, now 91, of Toronto and her mother, a resident of Parkview Home, Stouffville, were able to attend.

Mr. Morgan was born in Cardiff, Wales, one of four in the family of Frank and Sarah Morgan. A brother Griffith and two sisters, Agnes and Marjorie, live in Toronto.

Mr. Morgan came to Canada in 1913, later serving overseas with the 3rd Canadian Tunneling Co. and the 35th Battalion. He was twice wounded in action, spending many weeks in hospital.

Mrs. Morgan was born in Portsmouth, England, also one in a family of four. One brother, Claude, lives on Elizabeth Street, Markham while a second, John, resides in Coldwater. A sister, Mrs. Gladys Oakes, lives in Mississauga.

For Mrs. Morgan the trip over to Canada, in 1907, holds few if any memories, since she was a very small girl at the time. Victor and Emily were married following his return from the war. They moved into their new home at Longbranch but later, on the advice of a family physician, took up residence on 17th Avenue, Markham, where they spent a period of 47 years.

"The pot holes in the 8th concession were so bad, we couldn't get our furniture in," recalled Mr. Morgan. "We purchased a stove and a bed at Wideman's," said Emily.

In April of this year, they moved to the Dublin Apartments in Markham. Their suite is 9H.

From their living room window, nine floors above the street, they can look out on the rural community that was their home for almost half a century. It holds many wonderful memories.

But Mr. and Mrs. Morgan do not live in the past. They speak with pride of their five grandchildren, Wanda (Mrs. Steven Kennedy), Bryan and Kenneth Coxworth, Paul and Bruce Borland.

While their family refused to allow the occasion to pass unnoticed, neither did Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield, Premier Wm. Davis or York Centre's Donald Deacon. Each sent telegrams of best wishes.

Also much treasured is a framed plaque from Hon. John Yaremko, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Citizenship. The inscription reads: "On behalf of the Honorable William Davis, Prime Minister, and the Government of Ontario, I extend heartiest congratulations on your fiftieth wedding anniversary.

May you enjoy many more anniversaries in good health and happiness. August 6, 1971."

Late Randall Chapman

Respected Pine Orchard resident

PINE ORCHARD, Mr. Randall Chapman passed away, July 24, in York County Hospital, Newmarket. He was 84.

Mr. Chapman spent his early years in the Bethesda area, later moving to Pine Orchard where he operated the service station 31 years.

Three years ago, he sold his home and business to live with his daughter, Mrs. Eveleigh, in Aurora. His wife, the former Margaret Harper, died 13 years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Beatrice (Mrs. Walter Johnston), Pine Orchard and Alma (Mrs. Harold Eveleigh), Aurora; three grandsons, two great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Alma Closson, Stouffville.

Rev. Norman Rowan conducted the service, July 27, from the Chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, Newmarket, with interment, Pine Orchard Cemetery. The pall bearers were grandsons Bruce and Verne Eveleigh, Earl Johnston and nephews, Clifford Burkholder, Ross Chapman and Walter Booth.
