MARKET YOUR GRAIN With CONFIDENCE THROUGH YOUR CO-OP

This farmer isn't taking any chances. He's taking his grain to his own elevator — his local co-op. He knows that his co-op is one of the 152 co-ops in Ontario and that part of their strength lies in the fact that they don't have all their eggs in one basket. Besides grain, they handle feed, seed, fertilizer, petroleum and other commodities and services.

Like 60,000 other Ontario farmers, he realizes that farmers have built many elevators, but this is one they own!
