LEMONVILLE - An area canvass, to raise sufficient funds for the purchase of the former Lemonville School property, has reached $5,000, campaign chairman Reg Fairbanks revealed this week. However, the reserve bid held by the Board for the site is in excess of $15,000. A meeting between committee representatives and the trustees has been arranged for Nov. 8. Residents hope to acquire the building for use as a Community Centre. Mr. Fairbanks praised the work of the canvassers. He said an estimated 250 families in the area had been visited with many responding in a very generous manner.

"The campaign has inspired a new kind of community spirit", he said, "it's a wonderful thing to see". With reference to an offer by Stouffville's Arthur Latcham to match every dollar raised by the committee, Mr. Fairbanks could only describe such generosity as "wonderful". It was Mr. Latcham that submitted the bids, Saturday, on the community's behalf. He admitted later, that with a reserve bid above the $15,000 figure, more money would be required. "If

Stouffville PUC is a publicly owned utility in business to serve this community with a dependable supply of electricity at the lowest possible cost. We do not operate to earn speculative or large profits. However, the amount we collect in revenue must be sufficient to assure the highest possible service and the financial integrity of the utility.

Any revenue in excess of these requirements goes directly into expanding facilities or keeping your rates down.

Today we face a difficult situation. For the past few years we have been absorbing a large rise in the cost of running your utility. Wages have risen, the cost of the manufactured and raw materials we use has jumped enormously and we're now serving more people than at any other time. Indeed, rising costs have now reached the point where our present rates are no longer sufficient to cover the cost of a year's operation.

Thus, however reluctant we are to do so, we must introduce a new rate. It's a small increase — the smallest possible to allow us to fulfill our obligation to you the customer — 'dependable electric service at the lowest possible cost'.
