A photo for every Mongolia family album

Fifty years from now, great grandchildren of present-day Mongolia residents will leaf through their dog-eared family albums and note that this giant elm tree, located on 18th Avenue, just west of the hamlet, was felled by Hydro crews and Markham road employees, Dec. 8, 1971. They may also point to the now-familiar folk lined up along the huge trunk and recognize them as (left to right) - Reg Rennie, Mrs. Reg Rennie, Ernie Taylor, Mrs. Jim Cowan, Jim Cowan, Ann Carter and Murray Betz. Time changes things. —Jas. Thomas.
