Extend hospital benefits

STOUFFVILLE - A meeting of interest to everyone living in Nursing Homes, Homes for the Aged, and Homes for Special Care, was held March 7 at the Skyline Hotel, Toronto.

The purpose of the conference was to provide information about the new Extended Care Insured Service, which will extend Ontario Hospitalization Benefits to eligible persons living in nursing homes and homes for the aged.

Attending from Parkview Home were Mr. Joseph Nighswander, Administrator and Mr. Herbert Diller, Office Manager.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Allen of Stouffville, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dixon of Toronto, into the Parkview family which now numbers 108 persons.

Miss Sandra White and Miss Mary Johnson, of Don Head School, York County, are spending two weeks at Parkview on work assignments.

Residents and staff are enjoying a number of beautiful oil paintings which have been loaned to the Home by local artists, Mr. Peter Koopman, Mr. Douglas Ramer and Mrs. Elsie Nighswander.

The Sunday evening service, March 12, was taken by Rev. Donald H. Parr, of Markham United Church. He was assisted by an Intermediate Girls Choir.

Stouffville Women's Institute was responsible for the February Birthday Party. The thirteen residents celebrating birthdays were Annie Walker, Margaret McKinley, Frances Neate, Mrs. Mabelle Chamberlain, Laura Hilliard, Janet Judd, Florence Hammond, Margaret Foster, Mabel Tallman, and Mr. Henry Cosburn, Hilliard, Degeer and Robt. James Adams.

Harry Hunt, principal of Ballantrae School for the past 7 years, has submitted his resignation, effective, June 30. He and his wife have purchased a 100 acre property at Wyevale, near Midland, and will be working with emotionally disturbed children. —Jas. Thomas.

Ballantrae Principal

To fulfil life-long dream

BALLANTRAE - Harry Hunt, principal of Ballantrae School, is resigning his position to satisfy a long-standing ambition.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt have purchased 100 acres near Wyevale, 10 miles from Midland. On the property is a functioning water-driven grist mill, one of a few still operating in the province. The balance of Mr. Hunt's land includes trees, meadows, hills and valleys.

At this location, Mr. Hunt will build an outdoor education centre. It will take the form of a summer camp, and eventually plans call for the construction of a small lodge. Mr. Hunt is particularly interested in working with emotionally disturbed children. The centre will be run by Mr. Hunt and his wife. They anticipate their three children will be enthusiastic about it.

The principal's resignation becomes effective at the end of August. They expect to move sometime in the fall.

It has been 18 years since Mr. Hunt began his teaching career. His first position was at S.S. No. 6, Whitechurch. He has been at Ballantrae for 7 years.

Attendance at Ballantrae was 200 when Mr. Hunt accepted the principal's post. It is now over 400. He is pleased to have enjoyed and benefitted from the experience.

"I've been very fortunate", he said, "I started in a one-room school with 48 students, and ended up here with 400".

His latest venture is something he's always wanted to do.

Harry Hunt has played an important part in the life of the Ballantrae community. And while he won't be around to share in the improved facilities of education

Late Joseph Reesor Respected resident

MARKHAM - Service was held from the Dixon Funeral Home, Monday, for the late Joseph Reesor, following his passing, March 10 at Markham Lodge. He was 75.

Mr. Reesor was born at lot 11, conc. 5, Scarboro, the son of Menno and Hannah Reesor. He attended public school at Box Grove, and was a member at Zion United Church, Cedar Grove.

Surviving, besides his wife, the former Eva Reesor, are two daughters, Shirley (Mrs. Garnet Beare), R.R.2, Pickering and Dorothy (Mrs. Donald Middleton), Hawkridge Avenue, Markham. There are four grandchildren, Ray and Bruce Beare; Karen and Michael Middleton.

Interment was made at Zion Cemetery, Cedar Grove.

that the school will soon offer, he's been highly successful in bringing these about.

It is safe to conclude that if his performance at Ballantrae is an example of what can be accomplished, then the family's outdoor education centre at Wyevale, is bound to be an unqualified success.

6 terrifying questions to ask a small-car salesman.

- 1. How much?
 Brace yourself. It may cost you several hundred dollars more than you think. Because on top of the inevitable sales taxes and delivery charges, wait the inevitable optional charges. That's where you can really throw your money around. On an electronic telescoping antenna, peek-a-boo headlights, or a sports console. Even more bizarre is the new small car that offers optional power equipment. A small car is supposed to be easy to drive. So what's it doing with power steering and power brakes? Instead of all that mechanical power, you'll need a little will power. To keep from being fast-talked into a lot of things you don't need.
- 2. What improvements were made this year?
 If a car maker's serious about making his car better each year, he'll make it better each year. With improvements that are meaningful. And not just cosmetic. Of course, if the car's a first edition, it won't have any improvements. In which case you should do some soul searching before you buy it. Because it takes years of refining to work the bugs out of a car. You don't really want a car to work its bugs out on you. Do you?
- 3. How long does it take to replace a fender?
 Depends on which small car you buy. Buy one that changes its looks every year and it will probably take longer to repair the body. Because dealers can't stock all the parts for cars that get an annual face-lift.

- 4. Can I talk with the Service Manager?
 Hardly anyone ever asks this one. But why not? You might save yourself a lot of grief. And money. So ask him what kind of service schedule he has for your car. What kind of diagnostic service? What does it cost? When you buy a new car, don't let the showroom in front dazzle you. Better you be impressed by the showroom in back: The service department.
- 5. How long is the warranty?
 One of the best questions you can ask. You see, how long a car manufacturer's willing to repair or replace major parts at his expense tells you something about him: How good he thinks his car is. If he feels it's sturdy and dependable, he'll give you a generous warranty. Something better than the usual 12,000 miles/12 months, whichever comes first. But if he doesn't give you better than that (or even that), ask another question: "Why?"
- 6. What can I sell it for?
 The resale value of a car is a tip-off on what people think about it. If the car's been a loser over the years, with heavy repair bills, you'll probably take a beating when you unload it. If the car depreciates drastically the minute you buy it, you're losing money even before you drive it home. So while you're thinking about buying low, think about something else: Selling high. Good luck.
