Ban 'boom'
PICKERING TWP. - When are firecrackers not firecrackers? When they're fireworks.

The difference was spelled out in a Pickering Township bylaw, passed March 20. In effect, firecrackers - the kind that go 'boom' are banned, but the decorative, Roman-candle type are allowed.

The bylaw does not recognize special holidays, but is applied on a year-round basis.

Easter bonnet - a memory

By Jean Leaf BUTTONVILLE - The age of the new Easter bonnet, is gone. The past weekend, that might have beckoned its revival, didn't. Yes, those once delectable concoctions of flowers, fruit and feathers, were almost non-existent this year. Too bad. They might have done something to brighten up some pretty dull days.

Mrs. Isabel Scott was a guest at the home of Clarence and Rhea Scott on Easter weekend.

At the Craig home where Mrs. Craig is recuperating from a severe cold, Easter guests were son John and granddaughter Michelle of Toronto.

Mrs. S. J. English had Dr. and Mrs. Ed Bartram and Ted of London as Sunday guests.

The community extends sympathy to the Ray McTavish family on the death of Mrs. McTavish's mother, Mrs. Edna Hele, at Toronto Western Hospital.

The death of Gordon Scott of Oshawa, formerly of Buttonville, who passed away suddenly on Easter Sunday left much sadness in local homes. Mr. Scott was Mrs. Harvey Cox's father and a brother of Clarence and Rhea

Scott of Markham. Mrs. Scott, the former May French also lived in this area and is a sister of Mrs. Gladys McQuay.

Russell Boyington has a new heart pacemaker - his second. Mr. Boyington was among the first in the area to receive a pacemaker about two years ago and has been living an active life - particularly where fishing is concerned.

To confirm the adage that trouble never comes singly, there are two sons in Jim and Rosemary Miller's family sporting casts from separate accidents. John injured his hand in a mishap at school which required surgery to save a finger; and on Good Friday, his older brother Jeffrey broke his ankle while skiing at Collingwood.

Buttonville W. I. members catered Saturday at Buttonville W. I. Hall for the Young-Stephenson wedding reception, following a lovely ceremony at St. John's York Mills.

Buttonville W. I. members will sponsor a benefit euchre for the Cancer Society, April 7, at the Hall.
