

Gold baton for bandmaster

David Williams, a member of the high school's senior band, took the trumpet solo part in the number 'Kathleen'. The program, entitled 'An Evening of Music', received enthusiastic acclaim. —Jas. Thomas.

STOUFFVILLE — Student appreciation in the form of a gold baton, presented to High School Band Director, Mr. E. M. Hawley, at the conclusion of a public concert, May 12.

It was the first program of its kind held at S. D. S. S., and if applause is a criterion, then the event was a tremendous success.

While the audience, (under 400), was less than had been anticipated, the enthusiasm was contagious, leading up to a standing ovation.

While participation by the bands as a group was well received, the solo numbers thrilled every listener, including Debra Sellers; Lynn Gresham and Jenny Moyer and David Williams with the band as background. Lynn played her specialty, the clarinet and David, the trumpet.

Mr. Hawley added a personal touch to the program by shaking hands with each. It seemed appropriate that David and Lynn should be the ones selected to present the Director with the gold baton and a set of cuff links. Mrs. Hawley received a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

While the Senior Band showed both experience and color, the Junior section was by no means out-classed. Their performance speaks well for the future, despite the fact that six Grade 13 members will be leaving the school this year.

'The Syncopated Clock' was the highlight of their presentation. 'I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen', 'Colonel Bogey on Parade' and 'Oklahoma', were three of the seniors' best.

"They're a grand bunch," commented the Director.

The audience applauded agreement.

Noted clockmaker leaves community

By Jean Leaf
BUTTONVILLE
After almost twenty years in this community Frank and Nellie Maw have moved from their home on Don Mills Road south of 16th Avenue to Omemece. For the past several years Frank has made a great contribution to the world of antiques with his collection of clocks. He also has mastered the art of handmade wooden works for grandfather clocks. No doubt he will still be found at shows around the country.

Don and Dorothy Reesor have had an anxious time since their youngest child, Alan, fell through a plateglass window in the recreation room and severed an artery under his arm. He is making good progress in Toronto Sick Children's Hospital. Friends keep asking about Sashay. She is fine, thank you. Not without trials, I should add, but fine. It took her a long time to get used to her new home and for months she ventured beyond the door for just minutes before she scampered back in. But now she is quite brave and has even inspected building projects in the neighborhood. This is her first spring without kittens. After eight years of raising one family after another we felt she deserved a rest. But that wasn't the only reason for her recent visit to the Markham Veterinary Clinic. She was the only lady in the neighborhood, and as such, her popularity was unbelievable. There were two or three suitors on the doorsteps and window sills at all hours of the day and night - serenading yet. So for the sake of sanity, hers and ours, we had her speyed. Now peace reigns.
