Port site hosts lady pilots

By Jean Leaf
BUTTONVILLE
Buttonville was a host airport to the 99's last weekend when they held their convention in Toronto. The 99's are an organization of women pilots, formed in 1929 by Amelia Earhart. Now there are 5,000 members in 36 countries. Its name derives from the fact that 99 flyers attended the first Conference. This is the first time the convention has been held outside the United States. According to one commentator, Toronto was a fitting place to meet since this is where Amelia Earhart learned to fly back in the '20's. Congratulations to Lorna Cox. She received honors in Grade 1 Music Theory and to Julie McConnell. Julie had 1st class honors in the same exam. They are the pupils of Mrs. Marguerite Jones. Sharon Buchanan is working with the Town of Markham recreational staff at Victoria Square and Buttonville this summer. Cheryl Tennyson is assisting.

Kathy Jones and Jill Arnold have been enjoying a summer camp at Bancroft. A severe weekend storm caused some flooding. On Saturday, two homes on the third concession were struck by lightning. The Clayton Jones residence and the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Paterson.

Mrs. Allen Hallett's sister, Miss Becky Finlayson of Nova Scotia, is assisting at Union Villa during her visit here. Mr. Jack and Miss Mary Rodick and their sister, Mrs. Morrison Sellar, were at Grand Valley, Sunday, for anniversary services at the United Church where Mrs. Sellar's husband, the Rev. Morrison Sellar, once served as minister.

Stole watermelons
The theft of 16 watermelons has been reported to York Regional Police, from the Chow Fruit Market in Unionville. Not satisfied with this, the intruders slashed open 45 bags of fertilizer before leaving.
