Think golf: mayor's tourney July 22

It's far from golf weather, but registration is open for the Whitchurch-Stouffville mayor's golf tournament.

The annual charity event goes July 22 at the Ballantrae and Sleepy Hollow golf clubs. Afternoon and morning draws are scheduled. More than 300 golfers are expected.

The event has been a sell-out well in advance of the tournament every year.

Entry fee of $165 includes a gift,

18 holes of golf in a power cart and two meals. Prizes will be awarded top teams.

All funds are donated to local charity. Last year's tourney raised $28,000. All local schools as well as sports, arts and the planned restoration/ renovation of the former town hall, have benefitted from the tourney.

Mason wins SNA prize

Sun-Tribune editor Jim Mason is a winner in the 2007 Suburban Newspapers of America editorial contest.

His story and column on singer Jimmy Buffett's legion of area fans won third place in its class for best arts and entertainment writing feature.

It was one of eight awards won by the York Region Media Group. There were more than 3,000 entries from across North America in the contest.

Winners will be recognized at the SNA spring publishers' conference Feb. 20 to 22 in Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.
