

Waste plant would produce pellets

From page 1.

It is a conclusion "we don't agree with," Mr. Bricker said.

At Tuesday's council meeting, he said the Ministry of Municipal Affairs & Housing has "taken an excessively conservative decision on this".

His next step is to enter into talks with the province with the intent of bringing back new information for council to consider.

Mayor Wayne Emmerson noted that if the proposal is environmentally safe and sound and of benefit to the community, it should be looked at again.

The company is proposing a plant that would cover around eight to 10 acres, including the yards for trucks and other uses.

It would receive biosolids, such as sludge from municipal waste water treatment plants and other organics. A closed loop system would be used to dry the biosolids into a dry, loose compound that can be mixed with compost for garden mulch or formed into pellets which can be used for fuel.

From 1962 to 1983, Waste Management and the previous owner operated a landfill operation on about 86 acres of the property. The dump site was closed in 1983. It is monitored regularly and annual reports are submitted to the Ministry of the Environment.

No Joke, It's April Pools Day!

The first annual April Pools Day at the Lebovic Leisure Centre will help you get ready for swimming, boating and water fun in plenty of time for summer.

Sponsored by the Lifesaving Society, April Pools Day is being held April 5 from 2 to 4 p.m.

The lifeguards will help you check out the safety of your own life jacket and you can practice wearing and using it under lifeguard supervision.

There will be activities for preschoolers and children, promoting themes such as Swim with a Buddy and PFD & Me during the leisure swim.

There will be a draw with prizes and a toonie fundraiser for drowning prevention.
