Plant, clean on Earth Day

BY HANNELORE VOLPE

You can help celebrate Earth Day at several community clean-ups and tree planting events in Whitchurch-Stouffville Saturday.

The municipality is partnering with Love Stouffville, an interdenominational group of churches, to hold a clean-up day at the Stouffville Reservoir on Millard Street, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

You can also plant trees, an event sponsored by the town and Toronto & Region Conservation Authority, and build a bird house to take home, sponsored by Schell Lumber, at the reservoir.

Through Love Stouffville, several youth groups will make sure Earth Day continues throughout the week by doing various clean-up projects in the community.

The organization was formed "for Stouffville churches to express Christ's great love through various service projects," according to its website.

Last year, participants held a free car wash, cleaned 40 bags of garbage from the Stouffville Reservoir, Memorial Park and Stouffville Creek areas, helped at Strawberry Festival and planted trees.

Everyone is welcome to this family event.

For more information on joining the Earth Day clean-up, call 905-640-3911, ext. 22 or e-mail info@lovestouffville.ca or info@lovestouffville.ca

The Friends of Musselman's Lake holds its Earth Day spring community clean up from 9 to 11 a.m. Meet at the southwest corner of the lake in front of 5823 Lakeshore Rd. Gloves and bags will be supplied.

You can also bring used batteries, ink cartridges and cell phones for proper disposal.

For more information, e-mail friendsofmusselmanslake@yahoo.ca

The Musselman's Lake Residents Association will be cleaning up another part of the lake area, starting at 9 a.m. from the Cedar Beach Pavilion on Ninth Line.

The event is sponsored by Tim Hortons and features refreshments, music and entertainment.

Visit mlra@musselmanslake.ca for more information.
