Garden Swings for Everyone!

Garden swings make for happy holiday makers throughout the hot summer months. On a balcony, in a gazebo, on a terrace or simply in the backyard, swings are set up to make the most of summer. To meet the demands of every family, swings come in many different forms.

On a balcony and in a gazebo, people prefer a garden swing that seats one to four people, side by side. It can be mounted on a rolling mechanism for swinging backwards and forwards. It could also be supported by shafts that attach it to a framework.

On the grass or the patio, a swing can be installed to seat two to six people, face to face. As well as the traditional swing with two seats, one can now find on the market a new swing with four individual seats facing one another like the four cardinal points. For those who like to face each other but want their own seat rather than share it with someone else, it's ideal!

Swings are made in many different materials. However, wood or metal are most frequently used in the manufacture of swings. Wood gives you the advantage of being able to buy a model made to measure but it does require more maintenance. The most important thing is to choose a solid swing that will last for years to come.

You can also choose a garden swing with or without an awning. A swing with an awning, although a little more expensive, affords protection from the sun's aggressive rays as well as shelter from the rain.
