Last call for Da Classic Scoop?

BY ALYSHIA HIGGINS

A local landmark may be standing on its last beams.

Da Classic Scoop, an ice cream store at Stouffville Road and Hwy. 48, may face demolition if it is not designated a heritage building to allow for the continuation of the Main Street widening and reconstruction.

Currently, the building is in the way of where the widening of Main Street will take place through the community of Ringwood.

Council voted in favour of expropriating the land Tuesday and will negotiate with the owner as to whether or not it will purchase the land directly or reach an agreement under the Expropriation Act.

The building was constructed in 1851 and has had several different owners and uses.

Town staff will review the building's features and decide in the coming months whether or not it can be designated a heritage building.

The eatery has been a favourite of youth soccer players and car lovers looking for an ice cream cone.
