Barbecue, dance show Pride

You can show your Pride tomorrow in Whitchurch-Stouffville. York Pride is celebrating its 8th annual Pride Fest with events and activities across York Region, including a picnic and barbecue at the Community Safety Village of York Region on Stouffville Road Sunday. The picnic/barbecue will take place Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. at the safety village in Bruce's Mill Conservation Area. A dance for youth will be held at Bayview Secondary School, 10077 Bayview Ave. in Richmond Hill, tonight from 7 to 11 p.m. For youth aged 13 to 26, it will be a substance and alcohol-free event. Working in partnership with York Regional Police, Georgina Transit and the Ontario Trillium Foundation, York Pride will host both events. Pride celebrations around the world began in the 1970s, initially as a statement of existence of lesbians and gays, but over time it evolved into something far more inclusive. The organizers of York Pride Fest 2008 wholeheartedly endorse the belief that all Canadians should be proud of our nation's human rights principles, achievements and reputation. The region responded to a request from York Pride by officially recognizing and proclaiming June 16 to 22 as Pride Week. Everyone is invited to share York Pride's commitment to equality and respect for diversity and join in the 2008 Pride Week celebrations. For more information, contact the Diversity and Cultural Resources Bureau at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7986 or check out the website at www.YorkPrideFest.com
