

Stouffville ballet students earn top marks, praise

Thirty-three Stouffville-area dance students recently participated in ballet examinations through the Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing, Cecchetti Society Branch, and came home with top marks.

Examiner Glenn Gilm-our, who is also a teacher at the National Ballet School, said he had not seen such a well prepared group of dancers in a very long time and awarded the students top marks ranging from pass plus to honours.

The students attend classes with Alexandra Auld-Tizzard, who performed with the National Ballet of Canada, obtaining the level of second soloist before retiring from her professional dance career to become a teacher at the York Dance Academy.

Ms "Lexie" is a popular and well liked teacher at says school owner Angela Tucker, who operates studios in Newmarket, Aurora and Stouffville.
