

Stouffville veterans have their day

Markham has proclaimed Thursday as Veterans Appreciation Day as part of an initiative of the Dominion Institute funded by the province.

And, Whitchurch-Stouffville is also involved.

Veterans will join youth and community members at a ceremony to celebrate their contributions to Canada.

"We are excited to get out on the road and honour the accomplishments and legacy of our military heroes," said Jeremy Diamond, the Dominion Institute's managing director.

Veterans Appreciation Day recognizes the sacrifices made by veterans and lets community members show their appreciation outside of Remembrance week, he said.

The Memory Project (www.thememoryproject.com) is the Dominion Institute's flagship program, connecting veterans and students online and in classrooms.

The Memory Project Speakers' Bureau includes more than 1,500 veteran volunteers who have reached more than 500,000 young people since 2001.

Second World War and Korean War veterans from Markham and Stouffville will be honoured from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Veteran's Memorial at the Markham Village Library at 6031 Hwy. 7.

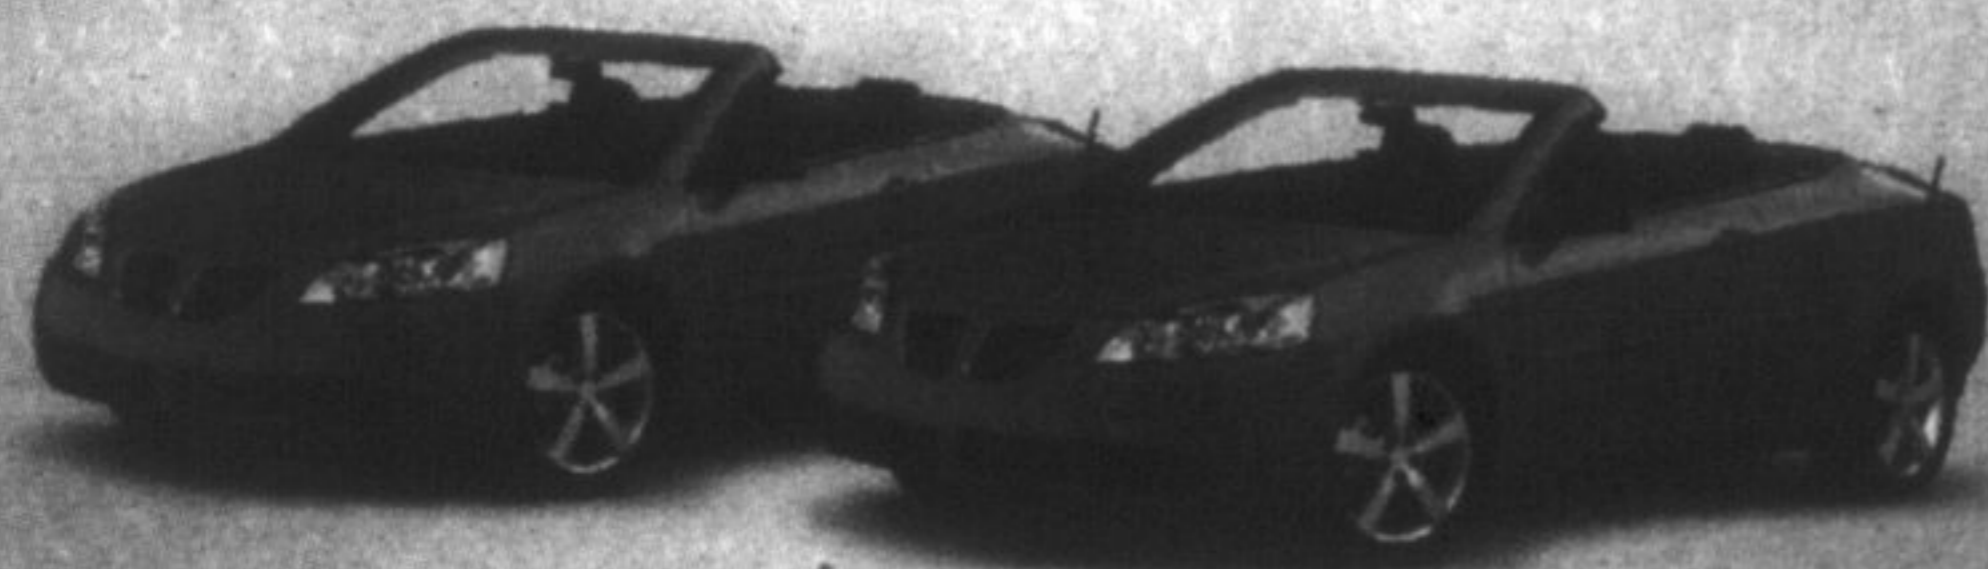

A reception will be held from 11 a.m. to noon at the Markham District Veterans Association at 7 Washington St.
