Popular chorus adds second Christmas show

More than 40 male voices will come together under one roof to celebrate the holiday season with a Christmas concert.

The male voice choir Men of Note will perform Christmas classics that include Carol of the Bells and Deck the Halls along with a few holiday tunes in Latin and Spanish.

Joining the Stouffville-based choir for the two-hour concerts will be soprano soloist Susan Brown, the Spartan Sound from Stouffville District Secondary School and the Quintessence Handbell Ensemble.

"They're absolutely magnificent," Hal Hill, a member of Men of Note said of the handbell ensemble. "It's hard to understand what people can do with a handful of bells."

Because the concert has sold out the past two years, a second date has been added this year.

"We just don't want to turn people away like we have in the past; it's a shame," Mr. Hill said.

Both Men of Note concerts will be recorded for a CD to be released next year.

"It puts you on edge, to a point, but to the point you want to do your best because this is my voice that is going to be recorded," he said.

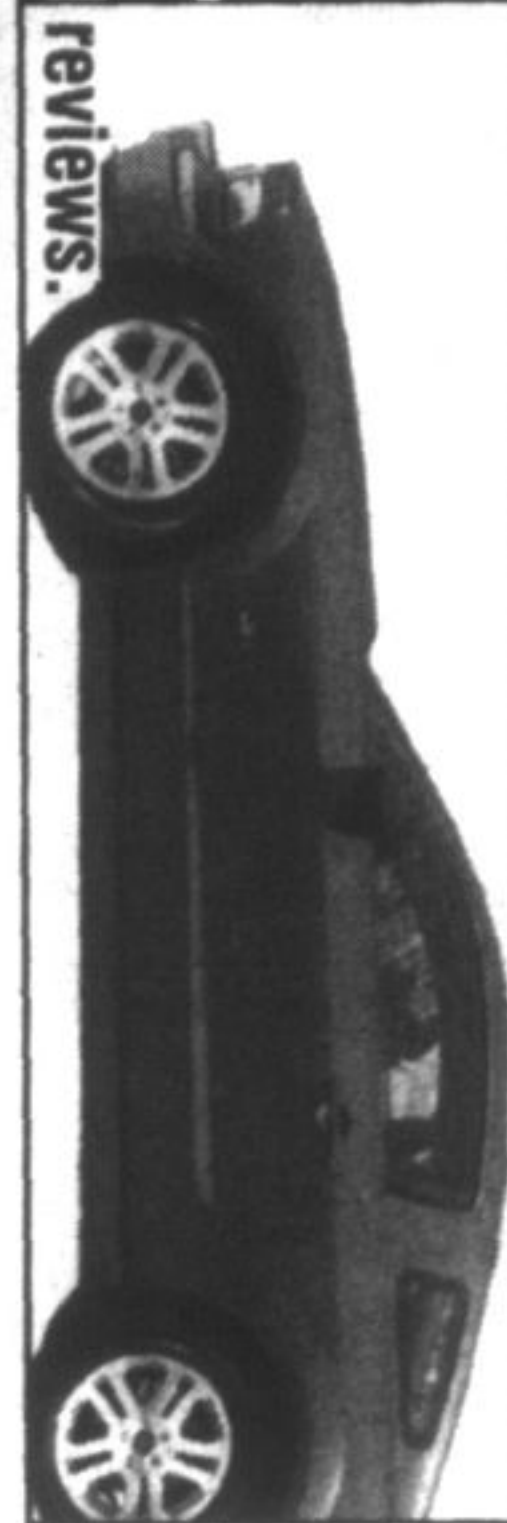

The choir, which was founded in 1999, has members from across the GTA. They practise at Stouffville United Church on Monday nights and perform about 12 concerts a year.

The concerts take place at Christ Church Anglican, 254 Sunset Blvd. in Stouffville on Friday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 20, at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $12 and are available from Cards TV and Appliances, 5758 Main St.
