

Stouffville expert faces TV challenge

Stouffville beauty and style expert Marc Galati will face off against specialists in money, shopping, food and nutrition, as well as personal development and home and gardening, in the Ultimate W Expert Challenge.

The television show, which will air in three episodes starting June 21 on the W Network, will challenge these experts on everything from hosting a dinner party in celebration of an amicable divorce to establishing their own fan club in the middle of a shopping mall.

The grand prize winner will receive a development deal with W Network.

Mr. Galati, of Headlines Salon and Spa on Main Street, won his spot in the contest via an online search last fall.

The Ultimate W Expert Challenge airs at 7 p.m. on Sunday, June 21, Sunday, June 28 and Sunday, July 5.

Come and enjoy the gardens at the Museum! Each spring staff and volunteers select appropriate heirloom plants for vegetable gardens at the Log Cabin and the Brown House and work throughout the season to maintain the spaces. There is also a flower bed at the entry to the Bogarttown Schoolhouse and a perennial flower garden to the side of the Brown House. Have questions about what's planted? Staff will be glad to share their knowledge of these heritage treasures!

Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum's Annual ANNUAL EXHIBIT

"You Asked For It"

What would you ask an early settler living in Whitchurch-Stouffville? Working in partnership with several W-S schools, this exhibit will answer questions submitted by local Grade 3 students. Questions range from living conditions and family traditions, to school life, pets, toys, survival, and the career choices of our earliest residents. Come and see if your questions are answered!

On display until September 11.
