

Anglicans take message to streets

Sunday is Bring A Friend to Church Day at Christ Church Anglican in Stouffville.

The morning service will be hosted by the Anglican Church of Canada and is an international event for all Anglican churches, parishioners and friends, no matter their religious affiliation.

"Faith gives life perspective, shape, direction and hope," said Colin Johnson, Bishop of Toronto. "It helps people see they're part of something larger than themselves."

Mr. Johnson was in downtown Toronto earlier this week spreading word of the event.

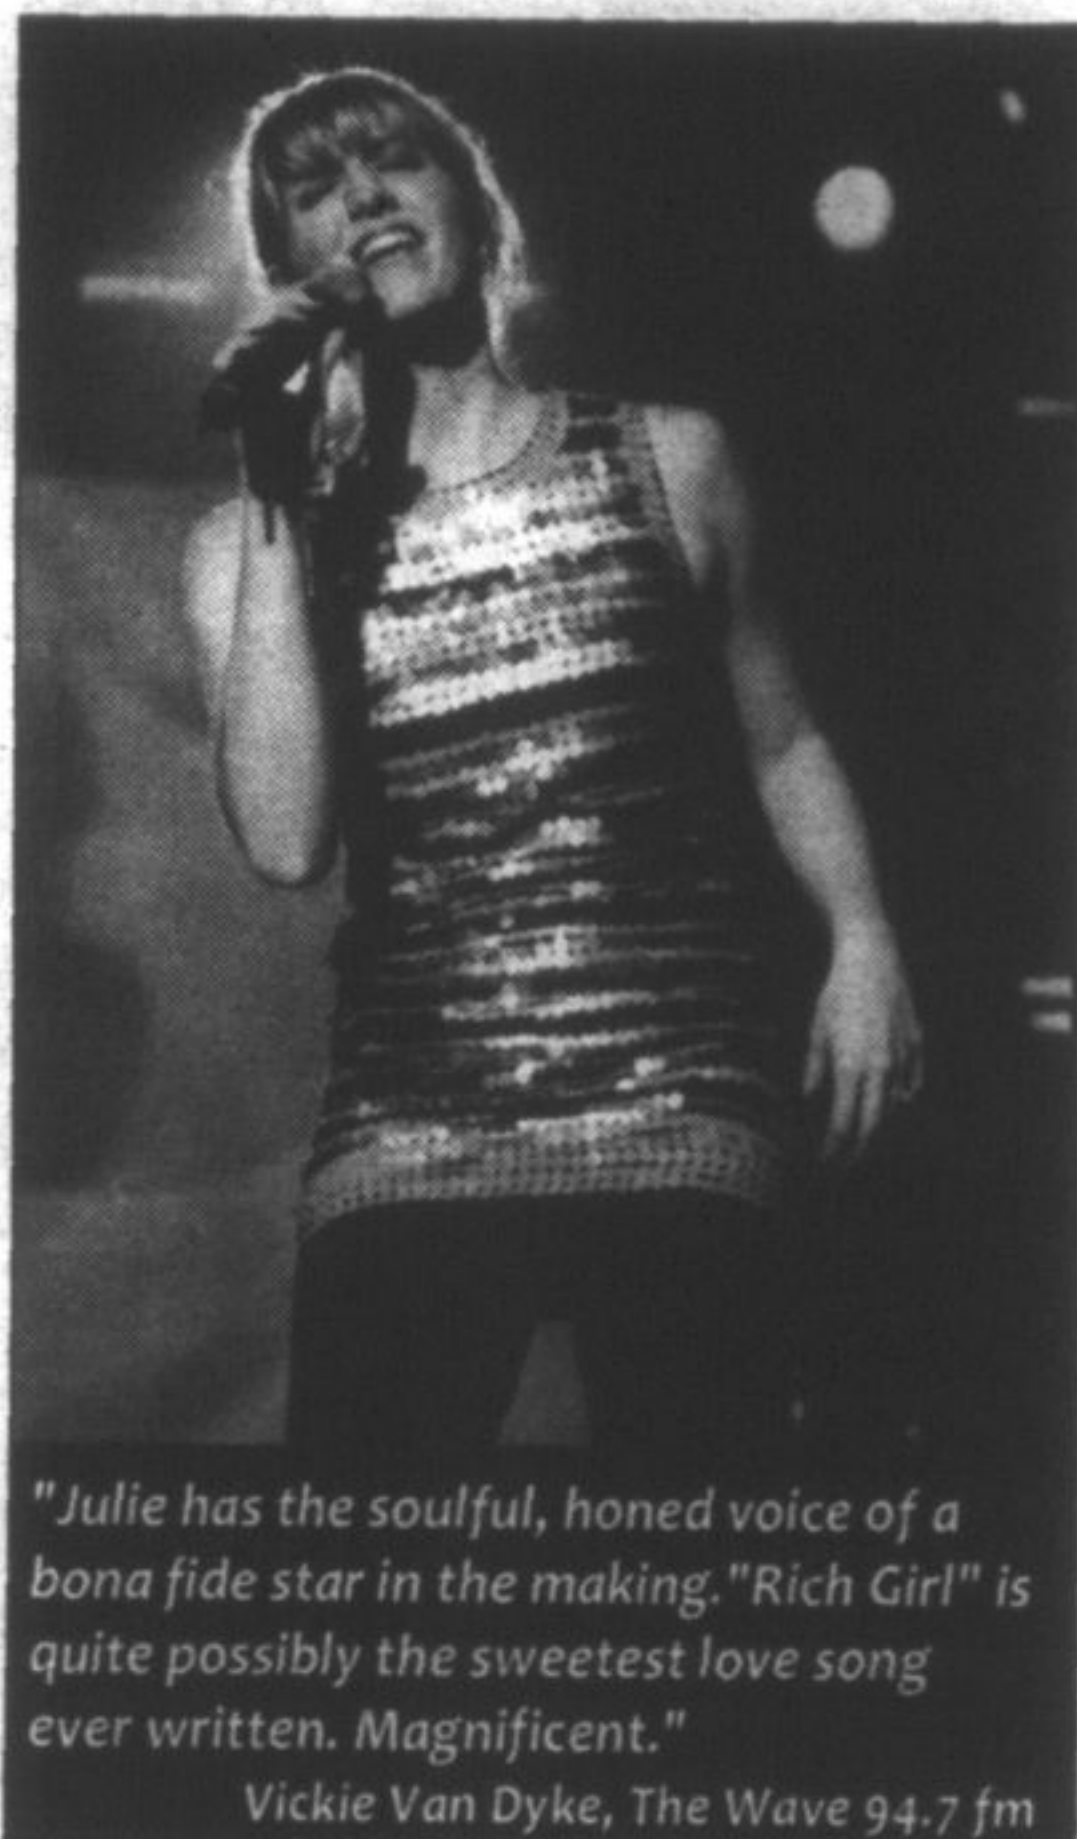

Mr. Johnson also stressed they were encouraging people of all faiths to reconnect with their own traditions.

Two million Canadians chose to call themselves Anglican in the 2001 census. That's a 20 per cent drop from 1971.

Christ Church is at 254 Sunset Blvd. The service is at 10 a.m.

"Julie has the soulful, honed voice of a bona fide star in the making." "Rich Girl" is quite possibly the sweetest love song ever written. Magnificent."

The magic happens somewhere between the groove and the melody. The essence of her lyrics and her smooth, soulful voice already had you, but you become hypnotized by the rhythm and lifted high by the song. As the song escapes her lips, it finds its way straight to your heart.
