Midgets to Amherstburg following Game 1 defeat

The Stouffville midget Clippers generated plenty of offence in their Ontario Minor Hockey Association final series opener against the Amherstburg Stars at the Stouffville Arena last Saturday.

Unfortunately for the Clippers, the same couldn't be said of their defensive play.

That ultimately proved to be their undoing as Amherstburg, near Windsor, drew first blood in the best-of-five or first-to-six-point series after skating off with an 8-5 win.

About 350 people attended the game, including a lively group from Amherstburg clad in Stars jerseys.

The Clippers got off to a good start in the contest as Josh Machesney scored the game's first goal in the opening period.

But before the period concluded, Amherstburg responded with a pair of goals to take a 2-1 lead.

The Clippers began the second period on a positive note by evening the score on a goal by David Beloff.

After Amherstburg countered with a pair of goals to take a 4-2 lead, the Clippers cut their deficit on a goal by Curtis Crago.

Amherstburg replied with a goal to restore their two-goal bulge at 5-3 entering the third period.

Regrouping between periods, the Clippers tied the game on a pair of goals from Lloyd Davis, including one shorthanded.

That would be as close as the Clippers would get as Amherstburg capitalized on a string of Stouffville penalties by scoring three times, including two with the extra-man advantage, to ice the game.

The second and third games of the series are scheduled for Amherstburg this Saturday and Sunday.

Game 4, if necessary, will be played March 27 in Stouffville.
