The story Pop war: Town switching from Pepsi to Coke on April 1 contained an error.

The owners of Fast Eddie's Diner, who were awarded the concession stand contract for the Stouffville Clippers Sports Complex, own the property Country Stop in Ballantrae is located on.

The Sun-Tribune regrets the error.

Ice cream sale aids firefighters

Just in time for the warm weather, it's an ice cream sale for a good cause.

Baskin Robbins hosts its second annual 31¢ Scoop Night in support of the Canadian Fallen Firefighters Foundation on April 28 at its 120 locations across Canada.

Last year's event collected $30,000 in donations, a portion of which went towards building a Canadian Firefighters Memorial in Ottawa that will be unveiled in 2012.

Whitchurch-Stouffville Fire and Emergency Services personnel will be in attendance at the Main Street store.

Pros, amateurs arrange flowers

Green For Life, a fundraiser for Lebovic Centre for Arts & Entertainment - Nineteen on the Park, will feature pros and amateurs of the floral world on Thursday.

Presented by the Stouffville Horticultural Society, the event will include speakers Denis Flanagan and Paul Zammit.

The So You Think You Can Flower Arrange portion will feature unseasoned celebrities, including Sun-Tribune editor Jim Mason, trying their hand with flowers.

The evening gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $30 at the Nineteen On The Park box office. Wine, juice, hors d'oeuvres and door prizes will be included.
