Youths needed to serve on local council

from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The whole family is invited.

The rain date is May 6.

For teens who want to find out more about the youth council, it will be holding a meeting at the Stouffville Arena, 12483 Ninth Line, Thursday from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Kids aged 11 to 18 are invited to attend. The age for membership used to begin at 13.

"We opened it up to 11 years of age because most of our executive are graduating," said Jen McEachen, recreation programer for the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville and convenor of the council.

"It makes a good transition from elementary to high school because they know the kids and have gained more confidence," said Erik Fraunberger, co-chairperson of the council.

"By opening up the council to a younger age bracket we're ... opening them up to new experiences," Mr. Cilia said.

The week-long celebration ends next Saturday with a youth dance at Latcham Hall from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Once people are in Latcham Hall, they will not be able to leave and re-enter, according to Ms McEachen.

The dance will be supervised by volunteers from the Stouffville Community Policing Centre, the Mayor's Youth Council and the town's leisure services' staff.

"We want it to be safe for everyone," Mr. Cilia said.

Tickets are $7 at the door.
