

OHL DRAFT

Carrick awaits board meetings with brothers

When Trevor Carrick entered the Stouffville Arena dressing room after taking part in last Saturday's Stouffville Spirit rookie camp he received a text message from his mother.

The news, which was pleasant in nature, did not surprise Carrick, 15, as it confirmed he was drafted in the Ontario Hockey League's annual priority selection.

The Mississauga-St. Michael's Majors took the six-foot, two-inch, 165-pound Carrick 85th overall with their fifth-round pick.

"It sure felt great," said Carrick, a defenceman with the Markham Majors minor midgets this past season. "I'm really excited."

Compiling six goals and 23 assists in 49 games for the Majors this past season, Carrick said he wasn't disappointed in being a fifth-round pick. Based on what pre-draft gossip circulated, Carrick revealed it met his expectations.

"I heard I would be taken anywhere from the third to sixth rounds," he said.

Jake is a forward with the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds while Sam is a forward with the Brampton Battalion.

Saying he had no preferences as to which team would take him, Carrick feels he's in a good situation in going to the Majors.

Especially since they play their home games relatively close to his Stouffville-area home.

Not to mention the success the Majors have compiled over the past few seasons in fielding a fairly competitive team. "I know it'll be tough to make the team," he said.

The third youngest of four brothers, Carrick hopes he can follow in the footsteps of his elder siblings Jake, 19, and Sam, 18, Both play in the OHL. Jake is a forward with the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds while Sam is a forward with the Brampton Battalion.

Acknowledging the thought of possibly playing alongside one of his brothers would have been nice, Trevor said it will be just as fun to play against both of them if he can earn a spot on the Majors' roster next season.

"Hopefully I'll get a chance to play a couple of games against them and even hit them," he said with a smile.

The priority selection primarily involved players born in 1994 from Ontario and the northern United States.
