

SAFETY: Boy, 8, approached in southern Stouffville
Police still looking for car, occupants

Police in Stouffville are still on the lookout for a suspicious vehicle and its occupants after a young boy was approached last week.

The event has been a hot topic in e-mails circulated in the community and calls made to police.

On June 9 at about 5:45 p.m., the boy, 8, was riding his bike on Reeves Way near Ken Laushway Avenue with his parents following on foot, police said.

At one point, the boy rode out of sight of his parents and stopped to wait for them to catch up when a grey vehicle with three men approached the boy.

A passenger in the backseat asked the boy to come closer to the van, but the child ran to his parents and told them what had happened.

York Regional Police stress there is nothing to suggest a criminal offence had been committed, but they would like to speak to the people in the van.

"The boy did the right thing," Sgt. Gary Phillips said Tuesday. "We just want to talk to the people in that car to find out what they were doing there."

If you have information regarding the vehicle or its occupant, contact police at 1-866-876-5423, ext. 7541 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS, leave an anonymous tip at www.1800222tips.com or text TIPYORK and your message to CRIMES (274637).
