

Painter picked for Quebec event

Whitchurch-Stouffville's Mary Seymour is one of 20 artists from Canada, the United States and Europe selected to participate in the 24th Le Symposium de Peinture de Baie-Comeau from June 29 to July 3 in Baie-Comeau, Que.

Artists will create paintings, demonstrate techniques and exhibit their work during the six-day exhibition.

Ms Seymour grew up in Zimbabwe. After training as a high school art teacher, she studied at the University of Windsor, receiving a fine arts degree.

"As an immigrant," she says on her website, "I am keenly aware of the vast population of displaced people in our world today."

A figurative painter interested in representing everyday life, her paintings range from depictions of contemporary family life, to rural landscapes and broader social commentary.

"My paintings often counter tradition by concentrating attention on the poor and the vulnerable," she says.
