COMING UP: New 19 on Park keyboard series

Piano men looking for bigger crowds

The promoter of the new Piano Series in Stouffville is wondering where the music fans are.

Port Perry's Lynn McDonald is presenting the three-part series at the Lebovic Centre for the Arts - Nineteen on the Park.

She loves the year-old theatre, but was disappointed by a tiny audience for the first show, by Hilario Duran on June 10.

Jazz giant Joe Sealy performs in the second show this Thursday at 8 p.m..

"The newly refurbished centre, is a true gem and will, over time, house hundreds of memorable nights of top-notch performance," Ms McDonald said. "The acoustics and sight lines could not be better."

She hopes the series "harkens back to the glory days of jazz when the great listening rooms existed: Basin Street, Bourbon Street, Montreal Bistro, The Cafe des Copains, The Top O The Senator, and George's Spaghetti House".

"In the 1980s and '90s, there were many excellent clubs to chose from in Toronto and the music rose to the occasion.

"We still have great, world-renowned players but the clubs are gone. They have been replaced by more commercial, noisy venues where the club owner may have little connection with the art form and only sees the bottom line."

Mr. Sealy was presented the Governor General's Award for his outstanding contributions to the arts this year.

"Joe is an imaginative artist that plays with ease and swings so hard it will make you catch your breath," Ms McDonald said. "It will be an unforgettable evening, up close and personal with the very best of the Canadian jazz pianists..."

Mr. Sealy made his mark with his Juno Award-winning recording Africville Suite.

Mr. Sealy has his own radio show on Jazz FM 91.1.

The next evening in the series is Aug. 12, when Robi Botos plays.

Tickets can be purchased at the door for $25.

Loyalty Can Be Costly

Shopping Around Still The Key To Saving On Car Insurance

How Much Is Your Loyalty Discount Really Worth?

If you're like most consumers, you worry that switching insurance companies means losing your "loyalty discount". The truth is that switching insurance companies may cause you to lose your loyalty discount (if you had one in the first place), but that doesn't necessarily mean you'll pay more for car insurance or that you can't save a bundle in the end. The fact is, some insurance companies may provide a small discount on your premium if you've been with them for a long time - but that small discount can quickly become irrelevant if another company has a rate for you that is significantly less than what you're currently paying. After all, what good is 5% off of an annual rate of $1,500 (a $75 savings) if you could pay $1,100 (a $400 savings) with another company?

How Much Do Rates Really Differ Across Companies?

The rates charged by different insurance companies to insure the same driver, with the same car, for the same coverage, can vary by hundreds and even thousands of dollars. And with so many insurance companies providing car insurance in Ontario, odds are you are not currently insured with the company that offers the best rate for your driving profile. This is where InsuranceHotline.com can help by providing an independent, unbiased rate comparison from over 30 top insurance companies to find you the lowest rate available for your profile.
