(Two doors west of the Fickle Pickle)

Rich in history and heritage, Whitchurch Stouffville is Canadiana reborn - the delightfully versatile and vital heartbeat of central York Region. The merchants and businesses of downtown Stouffville invite you to experience a wide and varied shopping experience among quaint shops, upscale eateries, specialty stores and unique retail outlets supplying all of your needs in one compact and friendly area. "A throwback to simpler times, before mega stores and 24-hour supermarkets," says Stouffville Sun-Tribune Editor Jim Mason.

Much has been done to improve the appearance of Main Street - more planters, the redesigned civic square, Nineteen on the Park.

This year's Moonlight Madness brought out large crowds and demonstrated the unique pleasures of a traditional downtown.

The next downtown special event, Stouffville Culture Days, will take place Sept. 24 to 26, but we encourage everyone who hasn't visited Main St. recently, or has never explored our downtown, to come and sample this community's heritage. Visit the stores and restaurants, wander the scenic trail to the library and leisure centre and admire the beautiful hanging baskets on Main Street.

Graydon Card is out to prove that you can go home again. The owner/operator of Card's TV and Appliances has upped stakes and set up shop in the old fire hall in downtown Stouffville. The long-time resident, who operated a hardware and appliances store in downtown Stouffville from 1968 until 1984, made the move recently after 26 years in the Shoppers Drug Mart/LCBO plaza.

"It's great to be back," said Graydon. "I have all kinds of confidence in the downtown area." The site will be totally renovated to allow it to fit in with the traditional look of the downtown area. Business will continue while the work is being done.
