

You can learn more about accessible public transit

Mobility Plus will have a public information centre open at the Lebovic Centre for Arts and Entertainment - Nineteen on the Park in Stouffville Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mobility Plus is York Region's door-to-door accessible public transit service for people with disabilities.

The drop-in centre will provide information on eligibility requirements, which are determined on a case-by-case basis and not on any particular disability, income level or lack of accessible public transit.

Registered users of the service can book trips that will take them anywhere within York Region, seven days a week.

Mobility Plus can even connect riders to Durham, Peel and Toronto's accessible transit services.

Other drop-in centres will be held across the region in Newmarket (Sept. 14, town hall, council chambers), Richmond Hill (Sept. 21, town hall, council chambers) and York Region (Sept. 28, administrative centre, seminar room).

All centres are open from 7 to 9 p.m.

Stouffville United chipping in for Pakistani flood relief

Stouffville United Church has put its world relief buckets out.

Through the church's Living Waters for Pakistan campaign, organizers are raising money for GTA-based emergency team Global Medic to buy water treatment machines and medical supplies to assist Pakistan's flood victims.

Each water treatment machine costs $1,500 and will supply 1,000 people with safe drinking water.

Once Global Medic delivers and sets up the machines, they are managed by Pakistan residents.

The Canadian government has pledged to match donations made through tomorrow.

The floodwaters moved down from the mountainous northwest, submerging or affecting almost one-fifth of the country at their peak.

Waters have begun to recede in the north and in the eastern province of Punjab, but they had been submerging towns in southern Sindh province close to the Indus River.
