

Doors to open at 12 heritage sites

The Whitchurch Stouffville museum is presenting the seventh year of Doors Open, a celebration of the community's heritage.

This year's event is on June 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. This is a chance to go inside and explore buildings that may never be open to the public again.

This year, there are 12 sites that have been selected by the organizing committee to show how Stouffville's has evolved. They include Ed's Hardware, Lionel's Farm, Stouffville United Church, York-Durham Heritage Railway, and Walter J. Smith Fire Station 5-1.

Those volunteering will be providing basic information to visitors at the sites, counting guests and other small tasks. If you're interested in volunteering, call 905-727-8954 or 1-888-290-0337. Admission is free. For more information visit www.doorsopenws.ca

Stouffville playwright honoured

Stouffville's Neil Alexander Marr won first place as author/playwright of a new script and his play, P.S. Uncle Angus, won best production for a drama at this year's Association of Community Theatres, Southern Ontario.

P.S. Uncle Angus debuted during Markham Little Theatre's 2010/2011 season.

Other Markham Little Theatre nominees included Stouffville's Ron Brownsberger for best lighting of a drama, Kate O'Hearn - best lead actress in a drama and Priscilla Marr - best costumes in a comedy. The entire cast was also nominated for ensemble acting.
