

Dogs, boats help region launch police week today

York Regional Police Chief Eric Jolliffe invites the public to the York Regional Police annual open house to kick off Police Week 2011 starting today.

The open house will be held at the Community Safety Village today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

An informative and fun-filled day includes demonstrations and exhibits from a variety of York Regional Police units.

Children will have an opportunity to ride in miniature cars through the safety village and take part in a bicycle safety workshop. There will be face painting and children can bounce in an inflatable police car.

STOUFFVILLE ROAD

Members of the York Regional Police emergency response and traffic units will provide demonstrations and police service dogs from the canine unit will be there.

Parents and children will also have a chance to sit inside boats from the marine unit.

The Community Safety Village is in Bruce's Mill Conservation Area at 3291 Stouffville Rd. in Whitchurch-Stouffville.

At the open house, police will accept donations for relief efforts in Japan. The most needed items include toothbrushes, towels, blankets, diapers, dry milk, shoes, clothes, dishware, toilet paper, paper towel, facial tissues and non-perishable food items.

In addition, York Regional Police district headquarters in Markham, Richmond Hill, Newmarket, Sutton and Vaughan will be open to the public for tours every evening from Monday, May 9, to Friday, May 13, from 6 to 9 p.m.
