For all you chefs out there, the drawer is a function that should increase your comfort when preparing meals.

High-performance drawers!

In the kitchen, innovation is not only in the realm of household appliances. The superiority of a kitchen is also demonstrated by the quality of its hidden equipment... especially its drawers!

Sliding drawers, with stops and shock absorbers for safe sliding, have appeared in our kitchens only over the past few years. This innovation gives easy access to accessories, while gently and quietly closing. In Canada, this is the very latest "must" as far as practical design is concerned, but Europeans are at least three years ahead of us in regards to materials, finishes, hardware and gadgets.

It's obvious that the kitchen of the future will run smoothly... on runners! Runners sophisticated enough for technically advanced drawers to slide on. Soon, the cupboard under the sink and all the drawers will no longer need to be opened by hand. Thanks to electrical assistance, they will be able to open by themselves; all you'll need to do is to press the door with your hand or knee for it to open or close automatically.

Many people are impatiently waiting for the arrival of motorised devices that can be fixed to the bottom of the unit to obtain the necessary impulse to open the drawers. The device can be used in new homes or for renovation projects. It will soon be possible to install it in all types of furniture with sliding drawers and all runner systems, no matter their format or weight, with or without handles. Just as with automated garbage cans, which are already familiar to us, these drawers can be stopped at any time during the opening process.
